1500 HAVE TITLES IN S. F. SITE

Naval Base Committee Told
Cost of Land Required in South San Francisco Will Be $1500 to $2200 Per Acre

Visitors to Inspect Alameda Waterfront Tomorrow and in Evening Will Be Given Public Dinner By Eastbay

Ground for the Hunters Point naval base will cost the United States Government between $1500 and $2200 an acre and will require condemnation proceedings. It was developed at the hearing of the joint congressional committee at supervisors room in the city hall in San Francisco today.

This important point in the naval base inquiry was learned during the presentation of the Hunters Point base by City Engineer M. M.
O'Shaughnessy of San Francisco.

"Admiral Rodman indicated yesterday that either the Alameda or the Hunters Point bay sites would do," said Congressman Britton. It, therefore, becomes in part a question of price. Mayor Rolph has made an inquiry and finds that this land at Hunters Point will probably cost at least $1500 an acre. I understand the Alameda land is to be furnished free.

The necessity of condemnation disclosed by questions put by Senator Walsh, who asked if any attempt had been made to obtain an option on the necessary acreage.

NO ATTEMPT MADE TO SECURE OPTIONS

When informed that no attempt had been made, Senator Walsh said:
"I admit that I am very much surprised."

In the ensuing arguments it was disclosed that Hunter's Point land owned by not more than fifty hundred title-holders, many of whom have had possession since 1858. The titles on much of this land are greatly involved. Attempts to buy the land for shipyard purposes disclosed that some of the owners want excessive prices while others are willing to give it to the Government free. In one case it was found that a small lot was held as an estate in which there were eleven heirs, part of whom were in an insane asylum.

O'SHAUGHNESSY TELLS OF ELECTRIC POWER

O'Shaughnessy also presented arguments of cheap electric power, which, he said, could be furnished when the Hetch-Hetchy project is complete, the railroad facilities, water supply and other advantages.

Major James Rolph introduced the records of the hearing of the Helms commission.

John A. O'Connell, secretary of the San Francisco Labor Council, addressed the committee, promising co-operation of San Francisco labor in the event the Alameda site is chosen. He declared that San Francisco is at present furnishing a large part of the labor employed in East-bay industrial plants and held that choice of an Eastbay site for the naval base would add to the economy of San Francisco commercial communities to a new place of employment.

Captain Clem Randall, of the San Francisco Towboat Association, discussed the depths of water at the Hunters Point and Alameda sites, declaring that permanent deep water could be had at Hunters Point and dredging would be required on the Alameda site for the sixth quadrant.

Daniel E. Ryan of the California State Harbor Commission, who entered the hall late, asserted that the Hunters Point land could be obtained for the government within 60 days. He expressed a vigorous desire to see the Hunters Point base site chosen and asserted that full cooperation by the state could be made.

CONGRESSMAN NOLAN
PLEADS FOR WHOLE PAY

Congressman John J. Nolan spoke briefly in the interest of an immediate determination of the naval base issue.

Husband, Dying, Tries to Murder Wounded Wife

Divorced Woman, Baby First Shot in Home; Another Man Shoots Spouse

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Although suffering from a bullet wound in his head, which attaches of Central Emergency hospital believe may prove fatal, Attilio Blanchi, who shot and seriously wounded his young wife, made a second attempt on her life in the ward of the institution in which she is confined.

Blanchi was discovered making his way down the hospital corridor toward the woman's ward, and when stopped by attendants declared his intention of "killing her this time."

At the same institution treatment was given Mrs. Frances Consani, also the victim of an enraged husband, who was wounded on a street corner when Antonio Consani made his appearance with a revolver and opened fire. The latter was placed under arrest.

Blanchi attempted murder and suicide, the police declare as the result of a divorce obtained by his wife some time ago and the awarding of the custody of their small son to her.

The woman has been making her home at Headlands since the decor was granted and yesterday came to take the child. At Blanchi's residence she made formal demand for the baby, she declares, and was invited in.

Blanchi is alleged to have told her that she could not take the child, and finally to have become enraged when she insisted that she had the right to do so.

Blanchi's wife is now in the hospital, and the child is in the care of the police.

W. J. BREAKS WITH STATE DEPARTMENT

Company Refuses to Handle
Further Cable Messages Except Upon Prepayment of Tolls; Miami Row Is Cause

Ruling Does Not Apply to Other Branches of Federal Government; Havana Likely to Be Chosen for Landing

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 16.—The Western Union Telegraph company has recalled to New York its employees who had been here since September awaiting the land of the Miami-Ha-vanna cable. The employees said they understood the company now planned to land the cable at Havana, Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—The long standing controversy between the State Department and the Western Union Telegraph company has reached the stage of an open break, the company refusing to handle any further cable messages for the department except upon prepayment of tolls.

The company's order was issued on November 10, it was said today at the department, and ostensibly was applied to all departments of the government. It was understood, however, that messages sent by other departments had been excepted informally from the ruling.

Several months ago the Western Union applied for the executive permit to land the cable at Miami, but the State Department was said to have demanded a copy of the contract between the Western Union and the British company owning the connecting South American cable line.

PREVENT LANDING
OF BRITISH CABLE

At the British Embassy, which had been chartered to lay the cable was ordered to Miami, but American destroyers were sent to keep the British ship outside the three-mile limit.

When William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of Treasury, became counsel for the Western Union company, and department officials said he delivered a copy of the contract to the department. It had been explained previously that the department had refused the permit desired.

It was about this time that the order refusing government cable messages except upon payment of cash in advance was issued.

California Has 70,196 Japanese, Big Gain Shown

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The Japanese population of California was announced today by the census bureau as 70,196, an increase of 28,840, or 69.7 per cent, compared with 1910. Other statistics:

Japanese population of Washington, 17,114, an increase of 4185 or 32.4 per cent.
Japanese population of Oregon, 10,229, an increase of 604 or 17.7 per cent.

Japanese population of Hawaii, 109,269 out of a total population of 255,512. The Japanese constitute 42.7 per cent of the 1920 population of the island.

The actual increase of Japanese on the island during the past decade was 29,350, or 37.1 per cent, against 30.4 per cent made during the ten years 1900-10.

Oakland Man Lost; Tragedy Is Possible

"My Head Is Bursting With Pain," Writes David Lawrence to Wife

Failure on the part of the Butte county authorities to find any trace of David Lawrence, Oakland man, who mysteriously disappeared about a week ago, point to another possible tragedy about the world war.

Whether Lawrence met with an accident or was killed in the hospital somewhere unable to reveal his name and address, or whether he is wandering aimlessly about the country in a state of aphasia, is a question which his wife, who resides at the Madison Park apartment at Ninth and Oak streets, is trying to solve.

Lawrence, who spent four years in France with the Canadians and was wounded three times and twice gassed, after which he spent many months in the hospital, went to Grid-ley two weeks ago to open up an auto main shop.

He bought his new place in Grid-ley about this time that the order refusing government cable messages except upon payment of cash in advance was issued.

President Hymans Accused Canadian Shouts Protests Monroe Doctrine Respected

By NEWTON C. PARKER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—Tumult broke out today in the meeting of the League of Nations assembly when President Paul Hymans was accused of not reading motions before putting them before the delegates. The accusation was made by Sir J. E.
Forster of Canada, during debate upon the rules. President Hymans repeated the imputation but the Canadian delegate kept shouting his protests despite the sharp pounding of the president's gavel.

Japan suffered her first defeat when the Japanese delegation attempted to obtain a rule that half the members of committees be chosen from outside of Europe. The proposal was rejected.

Over the objections of Lord Robert Ceil, representing South Africa, the assembly voted in favor of secret committee meetings in England, France and Italy supposed secret sessions.

It begins to appear that the Japanese delegation will not press its resolution for racial equality as the result of the councils of powerful friends. When Ben Hurst, head of the Japanese delegation, was asked if he would bring the question before the assembly he said:
"I do not know anything about the racial equality resolution that I am reported to have brought to Geneva."

"I do not think we will press the question at this time," said after-member of the Japanese delegation.
"The league is weak enough as it is and we do not want to do anything which would injure it."

Alfredo Costa, head of the Portuguese delegation, intimated that a move would be made to amend the league covenant to meet objections in the United States.

"Unofficial conversations are proceeding which may result in the eventual amendment of the covenant to meet the American views," said Senator Costa, "I do not know how the league can succeed unless the United States is a member of it. I believe that we can change the pact to meet American views without endangering it."

MONROE DOCTRINE
NOT IN DANGER

GENEVA, Nov. 16 (by the Associated Press.)—All danger that the assembly of the League of Nations may encroach upon the Monroe Doctrine by considering American questions has been removed.

The administration's attitude regarding the Monroe Doctrine has been based upon the literal interpretation providing against any territorial aggression in South America.

France and England Plan to Prevent Exiled Ruler From

Allies Stirred By Outlook

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Great Britain and France, it is indicated, will act together, but will await some indication of Constantine's intention to return. It was declared today at the foreign office that France would take all possible steps to keep the ex-king off the throne.

The defeat of Premier Venizelos has created a foreign official statement
"may be termed as display of growing ingratitude by the Greeks for the man who brought the country to the Allied side and greatly added to its size, power, and influence."
The view is shared by the Allies.
It was a great shock to the Allies.

ATHENS, Nov. 15.—Troops fired from a number of points on several occasions today to disperse a large gathering of rioters. Today there are fears of further trouble which may lead to martial law, and there is said to be danger that the army may get out of hand.

VENIZELOS, DEFEATED
BY GREAT MAJORITY

ATHENS, Nov. 15.—Premier Venizelos' cabinet resigned early today after the king had sent for George Paphitis, who has consented to form a new ministry.

The complete victory of the opposition seemed almost certain last night, although final results were still uncertain. Even leaders of the opposition opposed to Premier Venizelos in the elections held on Sunday were surprised by the showing their candidates had made in Saloniki and Attika.

It is said M. Venizelos will leave the country and he had advised liberals to abide by the verdict of the people.

Dimitrios Gounaris, leader of the opposition, has declared the foreign policy of Greece will not be changed.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The apparent defeat of the Venizelists (adher-

Greek election, means my early return to the throne at Athens," declared Constantine King of Greece today. "I was not surprised at the result."

There was much rejoicing among Constantine's entourage.

ATHENS, Nov. 16.—The Athens bourse was closed today in fear of financial crash. Admiral Coudu-douris, then Greek regent, was requested to take over full powers of government by the Venizelos cabinet before it resigned.

Admiral Coudurodouris was elected regent by the Greek chamber of Deputies following the death of King Alexander. Prince Paul was summoned to the throne in the line of succession, but he was absent from the country and Admiral Coudu-douris has been sent to the headquarters of the state until Paul arrived in Athens.

Just as soon as you eat a tablet of Page's "Diapiesin" all that "gassy," "sour," or "heartburn" is instantly relieved. The pleasant, harmless tablets of Page's "Diapiesin" never fail to make "stomachs" feel fine and they cost very little at stores. —Advertisement.

LIGHTFUL HAIR WASH

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for very trifling cost, if you get from Druggists a package of can and dissolve a teaspoonful in cup of hot water. This makes a cup of shampoo liquid, enough to wash your hair. Instead of just the top of the head, your shampoo is now ready. Pour a little at a time on the hair and hair until both are evenly covered by the delicately perfumed preparation that thoroughly cleans and removes every bit of dirt, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair with clear water, it seems like a new hair. It is softer, smoother and shines like a pleasure. —Advertisement.

Congressmen to Be Guests Of City; View Naval Base Site at Alameda Tomorrow

With the government weather bureau promising the first pleasant day of the week for tomorrow, preparations went forward today for the reception of the congressional committee on naval bases.

Every arrangement has been made for the comfort of the senators and representatives in viewing the site, holding their hearings, meeting the leaders in the naval base campaign and investigating the local housing and industrial conditions.

The congressmen will be escorted from San Francisco by a joint committee consisting of: Oakland Chamber of Commerce—George A. Ames, Joseph E. Caine, H. C. Carwell, W. W. Chapin, Mayor Davis, J. H. King, J. B. Knowland, Alameda Chamber of Commerce—C. Adams, C. E. Hewes, Mayor C. E. Hickok, Mayor Frank Otis, J. C. Stannard, J. H. Wilkens.

WILL CRUISE AROUND SITE
The Vergana will not be brought directly to the city wharf, but will first cruise around the Alameda site and then steam up the inner harbor through the Webster and Harrison street bridges in order that the congressmen may grasp the magnitude of the shipyard and other industries along the waterway.

Arrived at the council chamber in the City Hall, the commission will be officially welcomed by Mayor Davis, and Mayor Otis of Alameda will follow with a formal presentation of the 540 acres in the site to the national government. Mayor Otis will recite how the deed already reposes in the hands of the Navy Department and then will officially place the lands in the hands of the committee as the law-making representatives of the American people.

J. H. King will tell the commission of the value of the lands, basing his estimates on sales in recent years of surrounding properties.

Joseph E. Caine will review briefly the history of the naval base campaign, pointing out transportation, fuel and power facilities, labor market and housing conditions.

BIG MAP PREPARED
That the commission may obtain an accurate idea of the site with relation to the mainland, an immense relief map of the whole East Bay section has been prepared by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and will be placed in the council chamber.

This shows the sweep of country from the Contra Costa hills to the bay, with all of the streets and principal buildings on it. The Helm layout for the Alameda naval base is placed on this map, so that it can be seen at a glance just what is here to support the base.

After the hearing the committee will be the guests of the Chambers of Commerce at an informal luncheon in the Hotel Oakland grill. This will be attended only by members of the naval base committees of the two chambers, the Harbor Development committee of the Oakland Chamber, and city and county officials.

No speaking program has been planned for this luncheon. The affair is arranged purely for the opportunity of permitting the leaders of the naval base fight to meet the senators and congressmen.

Immediately after the luncheon the commission will be taken on an automobile drive through the industrial sections of Oakland and Alameda, passing the cotton mills, gas engine factories and the concrete shipyard in East Oakland and the Alaska packers' fleet, the engine and pump works and the Bethlehem shipyard in Alameda. In the latter city school children will line the streets and wave flags and cheer as the commission drives by.

ROUTE OF DRIVE
The route of the drive follows: From Hotel Oakland to Park street bridge passing Concrete Shipyard; south on Park to Eagle, east on Eagle to Pearl, north on Pearl to Farnside Boulevard, along Farnside Boulevard past Lincoln Park to Central avenue, west on Central past Lincoln school, south on Mount to San Jose, west on San Jose to Lincoln, north on Broadway to Lincoln, west on Lincoln to Park street, south along Park street to electric light plant, west on Powell Boulevard to Laurel, north on Laurel to Clinton, west on Clinton to Walnut, north on Walnut to Alameda, east on Alameda to Oak, north on Oak to Central, west on Central to Chestnut, north on Chestnut to Santa Clara, east on Santa Clara to Park, north on Park to Webster, north on Webster to Grand street, south on Grand to Dayton, west on Dayton to Sherman, north on Sherman to San Antonio, west on San Antonio to Bay, north on Bay to Central, west on Central to Burbank, south on Burbank to Portola, west on Portola to Eighth, north on Eighth to Ninth, north on Ninth to Lincoln, west on Lincoln to Webster, south on Webster to Central, west on Central to Third, north on Third to Pacific, east on Pacific to Webster, north on Webster to Junction.

At the Webster junction the special electric train will be waiting to take the congressmen and the naval base experts to the Alameda. There is a large viewing stand, erected by the city of Alameda and decorated with the American colors, will be the locale for further investigation by the committee.

WILL POINT OUT SIGHT
C. E. Hewes, city manager of Alameda, will be the only speaker on behalf of the site. With the aid of a large relief map he will point out the location of the naval base site with respect to Alameda. The principal points will be marked by decorated yachts, furnished and manned by members of the Aeolian Yacht Club.

In this manner the members of the committee can visualize at once the great expanse of the site, its closeness to deep water and the official anchorage area of the Pacific fleet, transportation facilities for men and materials, shipyards and other auxiliary plants.

After the site inspection the congressional party will board the special train for the Fourteenth and Franklin streets station and return to the Hotel Oakland, where the senators and representatives will be provided with rooms in which to rest until the dinner in the evening.

The dinner, to be presided over by Walter D. Cole, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, is to be the big social event of the day, though informal in nature. This, too, will be held in the Hotel Oakland grill.

More than 300 of the leading men and women of the seven mainland cities will attend, mingling with navy admirals, army officers, state, city and county officials.

ENTERTAINERS MAY RECEIVE THEIR TIPS
Modified by the striking out of a clause prohibiting tips to entertainers, Oakland's new dramatic cabaret ordinance received its second reading today in the city council and is now on the way to become law.

The amended ordinance, however, still demands a license of $50 quarterly for the conduct of a cabaret business.

An ordinance introduced to the council by the Better Business Bureau of the Advertising club, tending to prohibit anyone from subletting any business unless it is plainly shown that the person subletting is a "contracting agent" was rejected.

In that case, the Vergana will go direct to the Alameda moor, where a special train will carry the congressmen to the site. Then they will be brought to Oakland for a short motor drive and turned over to Valiolo at noon to be taken to Mare Island on a destroyer.

While the men of the congressional party are at a luncheon with the Naval Base and Harbor Development committees of the Oakland and Alameda Chambers of Commerce, the women of the party will be entertained similarly in the Hotel Oakland apartments of Mrs. H. S. Bonestell. Acting with Mrs. Bonestell as hostesses will be:

Mrs. Frank C. Havens, George Jensen, Harry Knowles, Walter Leimert, John McNear, Oscar P. Long, W. G. Henshaw and Victor H. Metcalf.

The women accompanying the congressional party are: Mrs. L. Helster Hall, wife of the chairman of the senate committee; Mrs. Fred E. Britten, wife of the chairman of the senate committee; Mrs. T. E. ## HOOVER MEETS WITH LABOR MEN ON WAGE OUTLOOK

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Plans of industrial peace and related problems were discussed today at a conference between leaders of organized labor and Herbert Hoover, former federal food administrator and member of President Wilson's second Industrial Peace Commission. Hoover, who came to the conference of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at the request of President Roosevelt, had made the transcontinental trip from San Francisco to discuss the whole industrial and employment situation.

Hoover said he had no definite program to offer but that he expected to "advise and discuss with the labor officials on general conditions. Differences appeared among members of the council as to the real purpose of Hoover's appearance. Wm. Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, said Hoover had come for a discussion of technical engineering questions the nature of which he did not disclose.

Federation officials indicated that Hoover would be asked to discuss means of reducing waste in production from both the labor and management viewpoint.

Labor leaders while admitting that there are evils in the labor situation causing some production waste contend that many difficulties and controversies between labor and its employers had their inception in inefficient subordinate plant officials.

The meeting was an executive one. Organized labor program for the coming year is being framed at the meetings of the executive councils. Officials outline labor's reconstruction policy as follows:

Repeal of existing laws and opposition to proposed laws requiring compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes.

Opposition to laws restricting the right of workers to quit work.

Enactment of legislation placing drastic restrictions upon immigration from all parts of the world with the most rigid control of that from Central and Southern Europe.

An intensive campaign of Americanization to counteract the influence of political theories not in harmony with the principles underlying the government of the U. S.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation declared that organized labor would insist that wages be maintained upon at least the level of 1914 with due allowance made for the decreased purchasing power of the dollar.

Matthew Well, a vice-president of the federation, declared that certain employers were interpreting the result of the recent election as a license to disregard the interests of labor, but added that he felt confident that the American people ultimately would be found on the side of justice in any controversy.

FLEEING SUSPECTS TAKEN
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Two prisoners giving their names as Carl Hall, 28, of 222 Hollywood avenue, Los Angeles and Samuel Weiner, 19, of Springfield Mass. were arrested today by police.

and firing of two shots at an alleged burglar in front of the Hotel Biltmore. The police said Hall was the man pursued and that Weiner was seized as a loiterer.

Oakland Ranks First In Vocational Work

Oakland now stands first in the rank of vocational high school departments in California and is given the highest appropriation by the state for vocational purposes this year according to a report tendered the Board of Education last night by Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunter.

Oakland received $20,562 $1 this year. Los Angeles came second and was given $20,184.72. Fresno is third, Stockton fourth and San Jose fifth.

About $90,000 is distributed annually by the state to stimulate local districts in organizing vocational education systems. Last year Oakland maintained 76 classes in this work.

Narcotics, Whisky Seized in Raids on Three Steamers

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—In the daily catalogue of developments in San Francisco's whisky ring drive and attendant circumstances the following stood as high lights today: Raids of and seizure on three steamers of contraband liquor. Resumption last night of inquiry into gambling by the San Francisco county grand jury. Resumption today of inquiry by the Federal grand jury into bootlegging operations. Hearings before United States

Commissioner Hayden of cases against accused men. The ship raids were conducted by deputies of Matthew Brady, district attorney, and customs officials. The Mazatlan, the Standard Oil tanker Shabones and the steamer Curacao were visited. Each yielded two or more dozen quarts of whisky brought chiefly from Mexico apparently to be smuggled into San Francisco. No arrests were made in this connection. The whisky on the Mazatlan was found in an ice box during a search for narcotics. Announcement of the indictment of Attorney George Appell was made Sunday, but he had not then appeared. He gave bond to United States commissioner in the sum of $10,000 yesterday afternoon.

During further hearing before Commissioner Hayden of the case of Harry B. Cooke, charged with intimidating a Federal witness, a clash occurred between George B. Finnegan, United States counsel, and Hugo K. Ashe, counsel for Cooke and Harry Brodsky, Federal agent who is under indictment. To stop wrangling Hayden had to threaten to call a deputy marshal.

If you saw it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

Booze Sales in Oil Fields Investigated

FRESNO, Nov. 15.—Charges of wholesale violations of the Volstead act, in Maricopa, Kern county, are being investigated by a federal grand jury in session here, Burton B. Crane, assistant United States attorney, who is in charge of the investigation, announced. Some fourteen or fifteen residents of Maricopa, including town officials, were before the grand jury today, he said.

The investigation followed a raid made a few weeks ago by federal prohibition officers, resulting in the arrest of a number of proprietors of "soft drink" parlors and the confiscation of a large amount of liquor. Crane said.

Halvor Hauch to Be Buried Under Auspices of Elks

HALVOR HAUCH, prominent Alameda man, whose death occurred yesterday.

Flags on Alameda Public Buildings are Lowered in Respect

ALAMEDA, Nov. 16.—The flags on all of the official buildings and principal business houses of Alameda are at half mast today in honor of the memory of Halvor Hauch, merchant and civic worker who died yesterday. Hundreds of messages of condolence and numbers of floral offerings are being received at the family home, 2071 San Antonio avenue, for Hauch was one of the best known and best loved men in Alameda.

The funeral services will be held from his late residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted under the auspices of the Alameda Lodge of Elks No. 1015, of which Hauch had been prominent member. The Rev. C. C. Wilson will officiate. From the home in Alameda, the body will be conveyed to the California Crematorium.

Although never holding public office, Hauch was one of the most active of this city's public workers. He had no desire to hold public office and several times refused the honors when offered by the citizens. There were few public movements in Alameda, however, in which he did not take a prominent part.

In his trade he was also a leader and at one time was president of the California State Growers' Association. He was a past president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Rotary club and the Elks. He is survived by a widow and two children.

Hauch was born in Denmark in 1861 and came to the United States at the age of 27. For the past 30 years he has lived in Alameda, engaging in the grocery business.

Constituents to Send Desk to Millerand

PARIS, Nov. 16.—President Millerand, who was a deputy for 35 years from the Paris "antique furniture" district, the Faubourg

St. Antoine, soon will receive as a present an elaborately carved desk from the people he so long represented in parliament.

His friends in that manufacturing district held a meeting recently and decided that better than long speeches of congratulation or em-bosomed resolutions, the President would appreciate a good desk. So the workmen and proprietors raised a fund and bought what they believed to be the best piece of furniture, for one who works, that the famous old quarter had to offer.

Holiday Handkerchief Opening Gift Exhibition and Sale

Beginning Wednesday Our Handkerchief Department will be greatly enlarged to house the thousands and thousands of Christmas Handkerchiefs flooding in Exquisite importations from every handkerchief corner of the globe, and the loveliest of American 'kerchiefs.

Handkerchiefs

—to be embroidered.
—for tatting and crocheting
—to be sent away.

Should be selected now

Such work cannot be done well and hurried at the same time.

Our vast holiday displays offer varieties that take account of every gift requirement.

There are handkerchiefs for men, women and children.

There are handkerchiefs gay and unusual, bordering on the extreme; handkerchiefs snowy white and ultra-conservative; handkerchiefs of sheerest lawn and beautiful linens; there are handkerchiefs for every day, for special occasions, for sports wear.

Myriads of these dainty squares fill the counters, shelves and cases. Snowy mounds on the one hand point to a "white Christmas," only to be contradicted by the rainbow hosts of lovely, daintily-colored handkerchiefs.

Shop early and shop mornings when every possible service can be centered upon you and before the rush of Christmas shoppers demands the store service be shared

Prepare your handkerchief gift lists now. Christmas is just around the corner. Don't be caught napping.

For best satisfaction shop while stocks are intact.

William Stranahan Quits Power Company

FRESNO, Nov. 16. — William Stranahan has resigned as engineer for the San Joaquin Light & Power Company here, to become Fresno representative of the California State Irrigation Association.

The association has been formed in connection with the project of Colonel R. B. Marshall for the irrigation of 2,000,000 acres of land in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

Mother Kills Three Of Her Children

CORIN, Mo., Nov. 15. — Mrs. Grover Buford stabbed her four children to death with a butcher knife at their home near here yesterday, then attempted to kill herself. Her condition is considered critical.

The other child, a boy of nine, who witnessed the tragedy, ran to a neighbor for assistance. Mrs. Buford's husband, a farmer, was at work at the time.

The ages of the dead children ranged from 2 to 7 years.

Reds Wage Relentless War Upon Christian Literature

By CAPTAIN FRANCIS McCULLAGH

(Special to The OAKLAND TRIBUNE and the New York Herald)

LONDON, Nov. 16. — I have several times pointed out that all the Red propaganda work is extremely hard. I have attended Red dinners where some guests had not time even to sit down or take off their overcoats or fur caps while they wolfed their food from a plate, but I cannot say that I admire this feverish energy, especially in view of the ends to which it is being directed.

Despite the self-sacrifice and the idealism of the Bolsheviks those ends are unroughly utilitarian. Even their literature, such as it is, strikes me as wholly utilitarian. The great street bookshops work extremely hard. I have attended Red dinners where some guests had not time even to sit down or take off their overcoats or fur caps while they wolfed their food from a plate, but I cannot say that I admire this feverish energy, especially in view of the ends to which it is being directed.

ENCOURAGE STUDY.

The Caliph who burned the great library of Alexandria said: "If they approve of the Koran they are unnecessary and ought to be destroyed; if they oppose the Koran they ought also to be destroyed." The Communists do not go quite so far as that, but the universal application of their principles with regard to literature would be almost as great a blow to civilization as was the triumph of the Mohammedans in the territories of Byzantium.

They encourage the study of classical literature, but on all the distinctively religious literature produced by Christians they wage merciless war. They have seized not only the great ecclesiastical libraries, but even the humblest collections of religious books in country rectories and schools and so long as the Bolshevik rule in Russia these books will never be reprinted. They have no use for the Bible, Dante, Milton or Bunyan; but their hostility toward modern writers who treat social problems from a Christian point of view is very marked.

NON-CHRISTIAN BOOKS.

Practically the only books which they print are Marxian or non-Christian books. So far they only had time to publish a small number of pamphlets treating the history of Russia, Germany, France, England and Ireland from the Socialist standpoint, but it is their fixed intention to deal as soon as possible with all human history from this standpoint. The result has, up to the present, been disappointing, as their brochures are very inaccurate and one-sided, but if they remain in power long enough their literary output will certainly have the merit of originality.

The idea, for example, of writing the history of England entirely from the socialist workingman's point of view is distinctly new, but the writer will be terribly handicapped by the quillness of the subject. He will have to confine himself to Jack Cade, the Chartist and the like, for the movement and to draw most of the material for the early part of his work from very hostile sources. Of modern material he will find plenty, but

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Pretty nearly every Popular Problem drifts into this column sooner or later, and here is one which is going to echo in a good many homes.

Dear Jerry:

I am a college girl and my sweetheart never finished high school. My friends tell me that we could never be happy if we married because of the difference in our education. What do you think about it, Jerry? They say that if the man has the most education it is all right because he is daily associating with people of education—but that when the woman has the more education of the two it is never a happy marriage, because a man doesn't want to think that his wife is his mental superior and their life would not be happy together.

Now, Jerry, while we are not engaged yet, this boy wants to marry me some time and we know of our mutual love before I entered college. But if I were convinced that by the time I have finished my course my feeling toward him would be different, on that we would both be made unhappy by our marriage, I would do as my friends advise and break our friendship now, as it will be easier than three or four years from now.

A PAL O' TOURS.

A Straight Talk

Pal O' Mine, I'm going to talk to you straight from the shoulder, for unless some one does you are going on in life with a lot of fool notions. You didn't originate those notions—they've been floating around for a long while, smashing human happiness. So if I step on 'em hard and hatefully, don't think I'm stepping on YOU, little sister—for I surely like you heaps.

It's this idea that four or five years at college is going to make a person the "mental superior" of the gang who didn't go. Of all the wicked nonsense, that's the worst—and the school that sends a human being out into the world with that idea hasn't given him even HALF an education. It isn't the books you have read or the lectures you have attended that establish your mental superiority—it's YOUR GRIP ON LIFE AND PEOPLE. I know a man who hasn't had even a grammar school education who is mentally superior to a large number of college professors I've met. He knows HUMAN NATURE—he can establish HUMAN CONTACT—he can generate and extract EMOTION. POWERFUL! To large numbers of these things constitute the finest education possible. Whereas a lot of folks with the whole alphabet after their names haven't the resourcefulness or adaptability of GROUND SQUIRRELS.

You MAY be your boy's "mental superior" after you've finished your college course, little sister, and you may never be a barrier between him and the girl he loves, and the four years can only add a little poison. I know nothing about you save this—the qualities that are going to shape your life are MENTAL. YOU and no engraving on a diploma is ever going to change them.

Depends on Yourself

Will you be happy? That depends on just you two, and the college will have very little to do with it. If your judgments are shallow and your feelings superficial you may THINK that college has put a barrier between you and the girl he loves. But in reality the college has nothing to do with it. The barrier must be placed there by the natural shaping of your own characters and minds.

And another thing, dear. IT'S UP TO YOU TO DECIDE. I can tell you easily that college or no college, no marriage you may ever contract is going to be happy if you let your friends meddle with the vital matters of your life. More happy homes have been broken up because Dear Friends aren't muzzled than for any other reason.

Decide for yourself, and base the decision on the qualities that lie within your two selves. The college will add no new qualities—the lack of it will take none away. If you love him truly, take him, and send those friends packing.

P. S.—But I love you, so please let ME stick around.

The Dancing Question

Dear Geraldine:

I have been going with a young man who doesn't dance and doesn't like me to go to dances. He lives in Oakland and I am sure he is true to me. I live in Pinola and my only pleasure is dancing. He tells me that if I keep on going to dances he will go out with different girls and have a good time. I love him, Geraldine, with all my heart, and he says he loves me. What shall I do—cut out the dance?

P.L.O.—Pinola.

If the dancing is really the only barrier between you I think I'd cut out the dancing. But I would do it on this provision, if I sacrificed dancing I should demand that it give me an extra amount of his time to compensate for it. In fact, I'd suddenly demand a most amazing amount of consideration. Then perhaps that young man would be glad to let me diversify my amusement a little. I really don't think much of "bosoming" and "butting in" in the name of love. If it only extends as far as the dancing, I'll all right. If it shows a deep-seated tendency to run the whole roost you had better spread your wings a little while the spreading is good.

Questions Answered

To "SERIOUS"—Those are certainly TALL questions, little sister, but here are the best hunches I have:

No. 1. I see no reason why a girl should not wait two years longer to marry a man of 24 with whom she has gone 8 years. Two years later on in life might be a good chunk of time, but at 25 is plenty early enough for a man to marry any way. I can't see that the waiting spoils things. As to the jealousy—I don't think ever pays. It's a good thing to put yourself in the other fellow's shoes. Would YOU be jealous if HE did what you are doing?

No. 2. I think that living with "in-laws" or even your own blood relations, nearly always causes trouble. It should only be done in extreme cases. Men don't realize the importance of this because they are not cooped up all day with little personal irritations.

No. 3. If a girl is engaged to a fellow whom she knows has several faults, and she knows other fellows whom she would like better, but who wouldn't have her, should she take her fiancé on the theory that he's the best she can get and she likes him?

I think that the girl who starts in married life with an attitude like that is going to have pretty hard sledding. It isn't the man's fault, either dear. IF YOU'RE GOING TO PICK HOLDS IN CHARACTERS BEFORE YOU GRANT YOUR LOVE, MOST ANY MAN WILL SOON LOOK LIKE A BATH SPONGE. You've got to go at love as you would at a real estate deal—concentrate on the fine views and forget the bad spots in the pavement. If a girl feels like this before marriage, how is she going to feel when she sees him on Sunday morning without a collar and a forty-eight hour beard. As for the "other fellows whom she would like better"—Did you ever try to pick an apple in an orchard? You can't get a more alluring one a little further on—if you're of a roving nature.

Must Suppress Emotions

No. 4. NO, NO, NO. I have heard that theory and it's both silly and nasty. If we DIDN'T suppress a few of our emotions in this life they'd have to build the jails of rubber.

No. 5. "Please state what you think of a fellow who constantly tries to kiss a girl? He is a clean fellow, but entirely too affectionate." I'd have to see the man first before I could judge. Pal. Some men afford a mighty good alibi for a lot of affection, you know. However, I think it's fair to judge that when you begin to want to put a speedometer on kisses, love is in a fair way toward scrambling out of the window.

No. 6. Flirting is flirting. I can't see that it makes much difference whether it's with a sister or some one else. That "brotherly love" stuff began about the time the first sister hopped along, and they're still going strong. And if there isn't a sister, they take to "feeling like a father" to someone. Go-in-in!

No. 7. No, I don't think so. But it's very painful.

Geraldine

HUMOR PATHOS ROMANCE

Boxer Scrip No. 2692

There is no well-defined boundary line between honesty and dishonesty. The frontiers of one blend with the outside limits of the other, and he who attempts to tread this dangerous ground may be sometimes in one domain and sometimes in the other; so the only safe road is the broad highway that leads straight through and has been well defined by line and compass.

Sharp was a man of what is called high standing in the community. That is, his word in a trade was as good as any man's; his check was as good as so much cash, and so regarded; he went to church regularly; he was in good society and owed no man anything.

He was regarded as a sure winner in any land trade he chose to make, but that was his occupation. The act he was about to commit now would place him forever in the ranks of those who chose evil for their portion—if it was found out. More than that, it would rob him of the respect of his community to be of great value, which, if not legally theirs, was theirs certainly by every claim of justice.

But he had gone too far to hesitate.

His own survey was in the patent room for patenting. His own title was about to be perfected by the State's own hand. The certificate must be destroyed. He leaned his head on his hands for a moment, and as he did so a sound behind him caused his heart to leap in guilty fear, but he did not could rise a hand came over his shoulder and grasped the file.

He rose quickly, as white as paper, rattling his chair loudly on the stone floor.

The boy who had spoken to him earlier stood contemplating him with contemptuous and flashing eyes, and quietly placed the file in the left breast pocket of his coat. "I was right in waiting behind the door in order to see you safely out. You will appreciate the pleasure I feel in having done so when I tell you my name is Harris. My mother owns the land on which you have filed, and if there is any justice in Texas she shall hold it. I am not certain, but I think I saw you place a paper in this file this afternoon, and it is barely possible that it may be of value to me. I was also impressed with the idea that you desired to remove it again, but had not the opportunity. Anyway, I shall keep it until tomorrow and let the Commissioner decide."

Far back among Mr. Sharp's ancestors there must have been some of the old berserker blood, for his caution, his presence of mind left him, and left him possessed of a blind, devilish, unreasoning rage that showed itself in a moment in the white glitter of his eye.

"Give me that file, boy," he said thickly, holding out his hand. "I am no such fool, Mr. Sharp," said the youth. "This file shall be laid before the Commissioner tomorrow for examination. If he finds—Help! Help!"

Sharp was upon him like a tiger and bore him to the floor. The boy was strong and vigorous, but the suddenness of the attack gave him no chance to resist. He struggled up again to his feet, but it was an

It's Easy To Put On Flesh

All you have to do if you are too thin and want to put on several pounds of solid "stay-there" flesh is to take a five-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal. This builds up the nervous system, enriches the blood and thus enables the vital organs to assimilate the flesh-building, strength-making elements of your food with new largeness and to waste. Folks who have tried it state they not only put on flesh but that it also almost invariably increases their strength, energy and endurance. You can get enough Blood-Iron Phosphate for three weeks' treatment of the Owl Drug Co. or any other druggist for only $1.50 and it's so uniformly successful that your druggist, a man you know, is authorized to refund your money if you don't like it. dows of the Land Office, crept out with great circumspection and disappeared in the shadows.

One afternoon, a week after this time, Sharp lingered behind again after the clerks had left and the office closed.

The next morning the first comers noticed a broad mark in the dust on the upstairs floor, and the same mark was observed below stairs near a window.

It appeared as if some heavy and rather bulky object had been dragged along through the limestone dust. A memorandum book with "E. Harris" written on the flyleaf was picked up on the stairs, but nothing particular was thought of any of these signs.

Circulars and advertisements appeared for a long time in the papers asking for information concerning Edward Harris, who left his mother's home on a certain date and had never been heard of since.

After a while these things were succeeded by affairs of more recent interest, and faded from the public mind.

Sharp died two years ago, respected and regretted. The last two years of his life were clouded with a settled melancholy for which his friends could assign no reason.

The bulk of his comfortable fortune was made from the land he obtained by fraud and crime. The disappearance of the file was a mystery that created some commotion in the Land Office, but he got his patent.

It is a well-known tradition in Austin and vicinity that there is a buried treasure of great value somewhere on the banks of Shoal Creek, about a mile west of the city.

Three young men living in Austin recently became possessed of what they thought was a clue of the whereabouts of the treasure, and Thursday night they repaired to the place after dark and pried the pickaxe and shovel with great diligence for about three hours.

At the end of that time their efforts were rewarded by the finding of a box buried about four feet below the surface, which they hastened to open.

The light of a lantern disclosed to their view the fleshless bones of a human skeleton with clothing still wrapping its uncanny limbs. They immediately left the scene and notified the proper authorities of their ghastly find.

On closed examination, in the left breast pocket of the skeleton's coat, there was found a flat, oblong packet of papers, but through and through in three places by a knife blade, and so completely soaked and clogged with blood that it had become an almost indistinguishable mass.

With the aid of a microscope and the exercise of a little imagination, this much can be made out of the letters at the top of the papers: B—x—x—rip N—2—92.

THE END.

Five Things Happen

When you brush teeth in this way

Dental science has produced a new teeth-cleaning method. Millions of people have already adopted it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. In effective ways it combats the film on teeth. And it deals with this tooth wrecker as was never done before.

The fight on film

Modern dentistry finds that most tooth troubles are caused by film. The film at first is viscous. You can feel it now. But it clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Very few people have escaped these film-caused troubles.

Ordinary methods do not end this film. So nation who brush teeth daily find they still discolored and decay.

A multiple attack

Now new ways have been found to fight film. Careful tests have proved them. High dental authorities approve them.

They are all combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. It meets every modern requirement. And this new tooth paste is fast-coming into world-wide use.

You'll know in a week

Some results of Pepsodent appear rapidly. Within one week the good effects will be amazing to you.

One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids.

Two factors directly attack the films. One of them keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling. In all these ways it brings and maintains whiter, safer teeth.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how the teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Compare the results with your old methods. Then let those evident results tell you what is best. Cut out the coupon now.

Hand's Story May Reopen Mooney Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Acting Chief of Police Captain Dan O'Brien today addressed a letter to Police Commissioner Theodore Roche, suggesting that the so-called confession of Policeman Draper Hand, including every allegation made by him he referred to District Attorney Matthew Brady, for investigation, to see if there is any truth to that part of Hand's confession which specifies that certain police officers "framed" the case of the prosecution in the Mooney trial.

If the investigation is made, it is foreseen by leading attorneys of San Francisco, the entire Mooney case may be thrown open again, and Mooney given a new trial.

Captain O'Brien stated today that such a result might be likely.

Real Hair Grower Found at Last

New Drug Borandine Causes Big Stir Among Hair Specialists.

$1000 REWARD IF WE FAIL ON OUR GUARANTEE.

Those who have become prematurely gray or who are troubled with scalp or hair diseases, such as falling hair, dandruff, baldness, itching scalp, etc., know full well the humbug that they have been led to believe. There is no new, better, or any other conditions. These troubles can be quickly overcome by Borandine, the best drug recently discovered at the Scientific Research Laboratories at Scranton, Pa. Since its discovery a little over a year ago, Borandine has been found to contain marvelous properties for producing a new growth of hair, in subjecting it to various tests in the worst cases of baldness, dandruff, itching scalp, etc., the results obtained by the application of Borandine were absolutely correct. It was found that in every case it was found that where there were any hair roots left it would produce a new and beautiful growth of hair in from four to six weeks' time. Gray or faded hair was often restored to its natural color in from one to fourteen days' time. In minor cases of scalp and hair diseases, such as dandruff, falling hair, itching, etc., it was found that these unusual conditions were corrected and often completely cured by two or three applications. The discovery of Borandine without doubt put an end to the troublesome scalp and hair diseases that are becoming so common with the American people. Anyone who suffers from scalp or hair troubles should write the Scientific Research Laboratories, Dept. 144, Scranton, Pa., at once, and full particulars of this new discovery will be sent you in a sealed envelope free of charge.—Advertisement.

HUFELAND MADE NEW MAN OF HIM SAYS RETURNED SOLDIER

"I was a wreck when I got back from Europe," said J. N. Dillon, into 5th Brigade, Machine Gun Company, Canadian Expeditionary Forces, who spent four years in France during the war. "All of me that had been alive seemed to have died. I had no ambition. My stomach had gone back on me. I didn't care to eat. I felt down and out and beaten. It just seemed to me I never could and he said one day, 'You must eat a bottle of Hufeland, the Swiss Stomach Tonic. It will put you on your feet in no time and make you feel like a fighter.' I took his advice and today, thanks to Hufeland, I am a new man in body and mind." At all drug stores since 1850.—Advertisement.

100 Ministers in Berkeley Today Attend Conference

BERKELEY, Nov. 16.—Gathered from all parts of this state and Nevada more than 100 representative clergymen have assembled in Berkeley today for the first regional conference held under the auspices of the Pacific School of Religion.

Opening this afternoon at the First Congregational Church, the conference continues for three days. Two motives are bringing the clergymen to Berkeley, one the annual Earl lectures to be given this year by Dr. Richard Roberts, eminent English author and divine, and the other to afford an opportunity for the mutual discussion of religious problems. Dr. William Frederic Bade, acting dean of the School of Religion, is presiding. Assisting him are: Rev. Edward P. Dennett, Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Lewis B. Hillis, Presbyterian; Rev. Wilfred R. H. Hodgkin, Episcopal; Rev. Henry E. Kelsey, Congregational; Rev. David A. Pitt, Baptist; Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, Congregational.

This evening at the First Congregational Church Dr. Roberts will be heard in the first of three lectures under the E. T. Earl foundation, a similar lectureship which attracted Theodore Roosevelt to Berkeley. Speaking on the general subject of "Jesus and Our Time," the special topic of the English divine this evening will be "Life and Things." This afternoon the ministers heard as the opening address of the conference "The Inner Life of the Minister," by Rev. James Campbell, D. D.

Following are the clergymen in attendance at the conference: DISTRICTS—J. O. Lincoln, San Francisco; J. C. King, San Jose; W. Lucas, Berkeley; C. P. Martin, San Rafael; J. H. Merrill, Oakland; Charles D. Milliken, E. W. Morrison, Oakland; K. Nukaga, Oakland; E. C. Oakley, M. Valley, James B. Orr, Oakland; H. Pfeiffer, Berkeley; Burton M. Palmer, Santa Cruz; J. W. ## 1500 CLAIM S. F. NAVY BASE SITE

Alternate proposals would mean the inclusion of lands to the south and that have not been considered heretofore. A number of streets are included but it was explained there would be no difficulty in closing them and turning over the site as a unit.

Admiral Rodman, who frequently has expressed his opinion that a naval base should be constructed at once on the bay, told the committee that from the navy's point of view the choice of sites lay between Alameda and Hunter's Point. This expression by the admiral resulted in his being cornered by a delegation from Vallejo to whom Rodman made explanation that any new base on the bay would mean a decrease in work done or staff employed at the island.

PARTY TO VISIT ALAMEDA TOMORROW

The party returned to San Francisco planning to make another trip to the point. Tomorrow they will visit Oakland and Alameda with dinner here in the evening. On Thursday the trip to Mare Island and Richmond will be made. On Friday is reserved for a general discussion of all of the sites.

The Richmond delegation is on hand today to invite attention of the committee to the arguments for a site at that city. James A. McVitie, city manager; George S. Wall, H. W. Wernse and Jackson Misner were active members of the party.

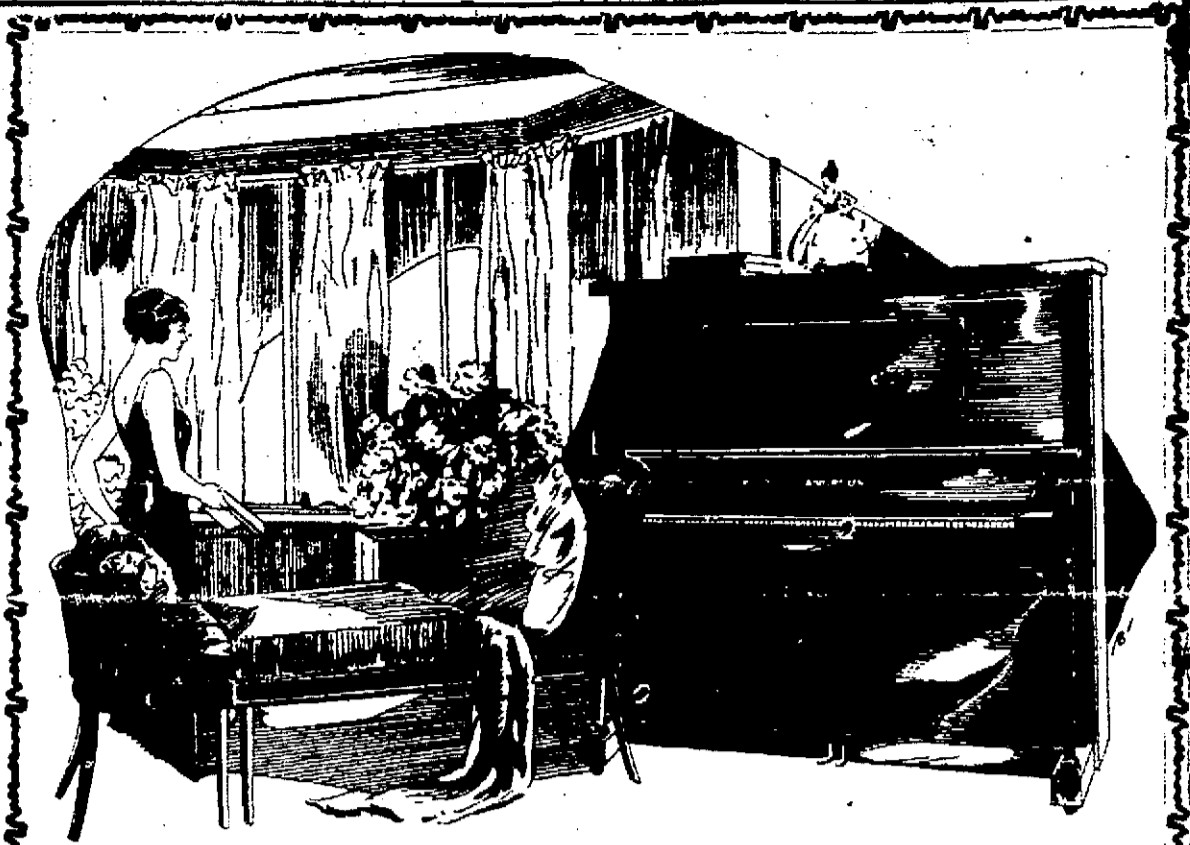

The arguments for Hunter's Point, as outlined today, included the advantages of drydocks already built, testimony to show that there is no depositing of silt there, and the claim that the buildings may be built on rock and next to deep water. At the informal session of the committee at the point yesterday Admiral Parks told of the results secured by the government in recent borings.

A Hundred Great Pianists Live With You—The Artrio Angelus

Endless variety in the readings of the greatest compositions of the master composers of the world is the portion of those who have the Angelus Reproducing Piano. Interpretations of your favorite numbers of Chopin, Beethoven, Bach, Schubert or any other may be heard and enjoyed at will. Never has there been offered such a boon to lovers of the classics and never, under the fingers of the greatest artists, have their readings been more truthfully, more beautifully given than they are reproduced by the Angelus.

Among the great artists who have trusted their musical future and their reputations to the wonderful faithfulness of the Angelus Reproducing Piano are the following:

- Leopold Godowsky
- Tina Lerner
- Yolanda Mero
- Ethel Laginska
- Gottfried Galston
- Doris Madden
- Richard Buhlig
- Ossip Gabrilowitsch
- Harold Bauer
- Clarence Adler
- Ferdinand Himmerlich
- Cornelia Rider-Possart
- Herma Menth
- Beryl Rubenstein

The reproductions of the Angelus, were they anything less than a perfect musical photograph of the master pianist at his best, certainly could not be trusted to bear the musical message of a Bauer, a Godowsky or a Gabrilowitsch to an eagerly waiting world.

We want you to hear the Angelus; to know that in the marvelous mechanism within its case is all of the beauty, the poetry, the flawless technique, the temperament and the talent of the greatest composers and the greatest artists that the world has yet known.

Drop in any time, just to listen and to learn.

GRATITUDE IMPELS HER TO MAKE FACTS KNOWN

San Francisco Woman Says It Took Only Three Bottles of Tanlac To Restore Her Health After Eighteen Months Suffering.

Mrs. Gertrude Grannell, 64 A. Sheridan St., San Francisco, is still another highly esteemed California woman whose deep sense of gratitude will not permit her to keep silent in regard to the remarkable benefits she has received from the use of Tanlac.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE, Oakland's greatest evening newspaper, assures its advertisers that the circulation of this paper reaches every day over 250,000 readers.

seemed to become affected, too, and sometimes it would palpitate so violently that I was afraid I would never survive the spell.

"I shall never forget the friend who told me about Tanlac for this wonderful medicine brought back my health and I never felt better in my life than I do right now. I'm hungry three times a day and relish every mouthful. My digestion could not be improved upon and I'm rapidly improving in weight, being twelve pounds heavier than I was."

"My sleep is unbroken, now, and in the mornings I feel refreshed and ready for the day's work. My old troubles seem nothing more than a dream, now, and what makes it more remarkable it took only three bottles to bring back my health. I'll praise Tanlac the longest day I live."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland and Berkeley by the Owl Drug Company and Eberly's Quality Pharmacy, Alameda. Advertisement.

MY HEART HUSBAND

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE.

"That's a short letter for a anxious tenderness. 'The old pain special,' Dicky remarked idly, as I slipped the sheet of newspaper into the envelope again.

We were all gathered before the open fire in the living room. It was the first chilly evening we had had, and we were revelling in the comfort of the blazing logs. Katie had brought the letter and the book for my signature in such a demure fashion that the attention of every one in the room was unconsciously fixed upon the missive.

"Oh, a quick, furtive appeal at Harriet Braithwaite.

"Yes, isn't it?" I responded carelessly.

Before there was a chance either for me to volunteer an explanation concerning the letter or for any one else to comment upon it, Harriet crumpled toward the side of her chair, apparently in pain.

"Oh, Edwin!" she said faintly.

"We all sprang toward her, but I did not share the alarm of the others for I had a shrewd suspicion that she was simply feigning pain in order to divert the attention of every one from the letter which she must have guessed was from Katherine.

Her big husband was the first to reach her side.

"What is it, dear?" he asked with feet.

"Are you sure you're all right to get upstairs?" he asked.

"Positively," she returned, smiling at him.

He half-led, half-carried her up the stairs, through the upper hall to her room, put her upon the bed, removed her shoes and pulled the coverlets over her deftly.

"Do go back to the others, now, Edwin," she said. "You know that all I need is a little rest, and Margaret will take care of me beautifully. I do hope mother didn't hear us."

Mother Graham had gone to bed early with a slight headache. I think if she had been in the group by the fire her daughter would not have dared to alarm her by pretending illness.

"I am sure she didn't," the big physician said, "and if you're sure you're all right I would like to hear more of Spencer's yarns."

My father had been telling them of some of his adventures in South America, and Dicky's brother-in-law had been his most attentive listener.

"I'm absolutely all right," she said, and her husband bent and kissed her tenderly.

"See that you take good care of her," he admonished me with a playfully lifted forefinger.

"I feel like a beast," his wife said when he had closed the door. "Of course you know that there is absolutely nothing the matter with me unless that unneeded dose of heart tonic should stimulate that organ a little too much, but I thought that letter was from Katherine, and was afraid some one might find it out."

"It was," I said quietly, wishing I might add the assurance I felt that as far as testing Dr. Braithwaite was concerned this projected meeting might never have been planned.

I think my sister-in-law saw my thought in my face.

"When you have lived as long as I have, my dear," she said slowly, and I mentally braced myself to hear something disagreeable—I have always found that the expression generally prefaces something I would rather not hear—you will learn that tenderness and devoted attention are no special criterion of a man's love. Of course, they often accompany it, but if a man is not a cad or a beast, and has ceased to love his wife, he feels such a remorse, such a desire to make up to her for the thing he can no longer give her, to save her from the knowledge of her loss, that he is far more devoted than the man whose heart is wholly in his wife's keeping, and is, therefore, careless about proving the fact."

I felt as if I were a small girl again and had just been compelled to swallow a nauseous dose of medicine. I could not deny that there was a tiny bit of plausibility about her philosophy, but my whole being being propped against it.

"I think you are wrong," I said hotly. "Why? If I believed that I should be miserable all the time. I never would know whether—"

I stopped short for two reasons. I was unwilling to discuss Dicky with his sister, and the grim little thought came to me that even if I accepted her philosophy it would rather reassure me than otherwise as to Dicky's love for me. His "tenderness and devoted attention" were not so uniformly conspicuous as to warrant me in suspecting they were assumed.

LA VALLIERE PLEADS GUILTY

Coincident with the discovery that the alleged defalcations of ex-Deputy Auditor Hamilton La Valliere will reach $5100 instead of only $300, as he had stated, he appeared before Superior Judge James G. Quinn today, pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $100 of county funds. His case was referred to the probation officer.

Reference to the probation officer was not contested by the district attorney.

The money was taken when La Valliere cashed checks sent to him.

1500 CHINESE SPREAD DOCTRINE OF PROHIBITION

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 15.—Fifteen hundred Chinese students in this country will be sent back to China to spread the doctrine of prohibition, it was announced at a meeting of the North Baltimore branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union here today. A bill to be introduced in Congress that will deprive an American of his citizenship if he should engage in the liquor traffic in China, also is planned.

The students, who are made payable to the county treasurer, for the redemption of property sold for taxes. The deputy auditor manipulated the checks in such a way that he turned over only a portion of the money to the county, pocketing the remainder.

FARM INUNDAED BY CITY WORK

A new street improvement that "improved" a farmer's ranch at Allendale and Viola streets into a large and juicy lake caused a hurried mobilization of the Street Department to that point this morning, and by noon the ranch was well pumped out and was riding above water again.

The trouble was started by a city drainage ditch that didn't drain. For several years the farmer's tract has been drained by a homemade gash plowed into the ground cross-ways. This little ditch took the water away, but it wasn't mathematical precise or slightly.

The Street Department last week decided to install street drains which followed the curb line in precise alignment, with culverts and things to match. It was a handsome job and a slightly one. It was perfect until the rain came. Then the water refused to accept the jurisdiction of the Street Department and slopped all over the scenery. The water sought its old home in the farmer's ditch but that was plugged up, so the water decided to travel around the neighborhood.

A little change in the pitch of the street grade, it is thought, will eliminate the trouble in the future.

Voters Are Thanked By Oakland Firemen

The following statement has been issued by the Oakland firemen:

The firemen of the city of Oakland desire to express their appreciation for the support given them in their fight for an increase in wages, at the election held on November 2, 1920.

Although the ordinance was defeated by a small majority, we feel that the people of Oakland are willing that the firemen of their city should receive sufficient compensation to be able to care for their families as good citizens and Americans should.

We claim that on account of the many amendments to be voted upon and the confusing position our proposition was placed on the ballot a good many people that would have voted for us either did not vote on the ordinance at all, or voted against us thinking they had voted for us.

However, the firemen will be found on the job as always, ready to serve the people to the best of their ability and ever ready to assist any worthy cause in which they may be called, as heretofore.

Firemen's Committee.
A. BERGFELD, Secretary.
C. O. Pratt, Chairman.

Recruiting for New Battleship Urged

Promising everything possible for the health and comfort of the men, Captain H. J. Ziegeler today telegraphed the local recruiting station urging Californians to enlist for service aboard the new dreadnaught California, named after the queen of the western states.

"I am sure that California will prove the greatest ship afloat," the telegram reads. "With the cooperation of the citizens of California I hope to establish a reciprocal interest between the ship and state."

ABER PRESIDES AT STATE RALLY

DEL MONTE, Nov. 15.—Louis Aber of Oakland is temporary chairman of the first state convention of apartment house owners and managers, which opened here this morning. Thomas J. Crystal of San Francisco is acting as temporary secretary. Addresses were made during the sessions today by Fred E. Reed of Oakland, Louis Mosher of San Francisco and E. N. Fritz, national president of the Office Buildings Association. Delegates are present from Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento, San Diego and Los Angeles. President Florence of Portland, Ore., is taking active part in the deliberation.

Allen ownership and management of apartment houses, valuation and depreciation, standard bookkeeping, co-operative buying and kindred topics will be featured before adjournment.

San Diego and Los Angeles have become rivals in the contest to win the 1921 convention.

Children Arrange Father's Funeral

Funeral arrangements for John Foreman, well known in Oakland and a pioneer of the Sotomayo valley, who died Monday in Healdsburg, were being completed today. Foreman was born 23 years ago in Shippenburg, Penn., and began his pilgrimage west at the age of 16. When he married at the age of 20, he took her school teaching. In later years he was a rancher in the district in which he died.

The deceased is survived by a brother in Pennsylvania and seven children: Mrs. James Scottish, Healdsburg; W. Foreman, Oakland; Mrs. Kate Gray, Oakland; Mrs. Anna Hodges, Healdsburg; Park Foreman, Healdsburg; Carl Foreman, Berkeley; and Lorin Foreman, Healdsburg.

American Red Cross Wants More Members in Oakland

Have you enrolled in Oakland chapter, American Red Cross? If not, why not? So asks Arthur P. Karbach, director of the Fourth Annual Red Cross Roll Call, which is sweeping the city in support of the peace program of the local and national societies.

Endorsement of the work of the Oakland chapter in meeting the needs of the ex-service as well as the service man and his family in those hundreds of ways which can never be counted before the public; in offering the benefit of a free employment bureau; in providing classes in home care of the sick, life-saving, first aid; in carrying on health center and public nursing, is asked by the campaign committee in the dollar registration fee which will provide ample treasury to carry forward these projects through the year.

Business, professional, commercial and industrial houses of the city have recognized the importance of the patriotic work which is so largely civic, by volunteering a full 100 per cent enrollment of their employees to the Oakland chapter membership lists.

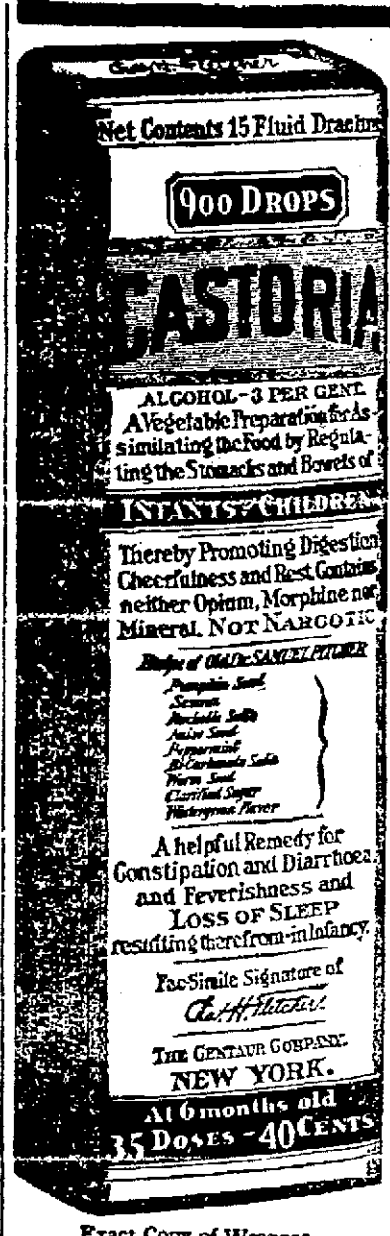

Among the latest 100 per cent firms to file enrollments with the city hall Red Cross headquarters are:

Curt A. Arents Co., real estate; Konrad Gobel Inc., the National Cash Register Co.; Dr. Newell Wilson, Loyal Order of Moose; Harrison Robinson, attorney; Harry L. Price, Rotary Oil Burners Co.; A. Joslyn, grocer; Glenview Pharmacy; H. Methmann, grocer; Bay City Iron Works; Louis Saroni, Schwartz Grocery; Dr. Ralph B. Aten, State Compensation Insurance Fund; Dr. Roy E. ## Eagles to Aid Red Cross Roll Call

At a meeting of Oakland Aerie No. 7, Fraternal Order of Eagles, last night, President Lee Bertillon appointed a committee consisting of Daniel J. Mullins, Henry Longfellow and William Kennedy to aid in the membership campaign of the fourth Red Cross roll call inaugurated on Armistice Day by Oakland Chapter of the American Red Cross. During the year just ended the local chapter has rendered invaluable aid in re-establishing service men, as well as performing general relief work. The Aerie also elected Dr. L. A. Stuck, Aerie physician, to succeed Dr. William Woller, resigned, and also A. R. Chenoweth of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, a member of the public bureau.

Governor Calls Upon All People of State to Give Thanks For Prosperity

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 15.—Governor William D. Stephens today issued his Thanksgiving Day proclamation as follows:

The President of the United States has proclaimed Thursday, the 25th day of November, 1924, as Thanksgiving Day.

It devolves also upon me as Governor of California to declare that day a legal holiday, and to call upon the people of this State to unite in rendering thanks to Almighty God for the bounteous blessings showered upon the State and the nation during the present year.

California has made wondrous strides in recovering from the effects of the late war, its industries have flourished, its people have been prosperous, and law and order have been maintained, and the citizens of this State have displayed in peace the same unbounded patriotism and energy that characterized their efforts in war. The people have rallied to meet the needs of a world under reconstruction.

With a still greater yield in prospect due to early and copious rains, California has good reason for thanksgiving.

Now, therefore, I, William D. Stephens, Governor of the State of California, do proclaim Thursday, November 25th, to be a legal holiday and urge all citizens to gather in their homes or respective places of worship for thanksgiving and prayer.

RENT PROBE IS PLAN OF WOMEN

Ratio between rentals and federal income returns are to be investigated by the Oakland State Housewives League, according to a resolution adopted yesterday at the regular meeting in the City Hall. "Buy Your Own Home in Oakland," is the slogan which was formally adopted in launching the new housing campaign. Recognizing the tendency to increase rents, particularly by apartment house owners, and accepting no grounds for the added costs to tenants, the appointment of a special committee was authorized to undertake the statistical work preliminary to more definite action.

name the personnel of this smaller group within the fortnight. The league pledged itself to promote a movement along the lines of home purchasing. Similar campaigns have been undertaken in Berkeley, according to Mrs. W. T. Cleveland, who was a speaker before the meeting. The listing of every apartment house, costs of land and construction, with its full record is being made. Assessed valuation and the history of the change in ownership is being obtained. The committees are working upon ways and means to increase the assessments to landlords who are charging more than a fair return upon their investments. Federal income returns will be looked into. Tenants in several of the Berkeley apartment houses are joining the Housewives League en masse, according to Mrs. Cleveland, and are co-operating in the fight against the profiteering landlords. Housing shortage was discussed. Attention was called to the thousands of unemployed men now in Oakland.

Private Funeral to Be Held for Attorney

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Private funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Frank Hubbard Powers, attorney, whose death occurred yesterday after an illness of only six days.

Powers, who was 55 and a native of Calaveras county, had spent most of his life in San Francisco and was a member of the University and Commonwealth clubs. He had served a term in the State assembly and been active in a number of civic enterprises. A widow and four children survive. Ernest Thompson Seton, the naturalist, is a brother-in-law.

Bad Checks Charged To Aero Privates

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 15.—Andrew Bartamande and Louis H. Ross, two privates in the flying forces at Mather Field, are under arrest today by local officers on a charge of having passed forged checks on merchants in Sacramento.

On being brought to the city they were identified by two of the business houses where the bad checks were cashed, officers declared. Forest reserve blank checks were stolen from the mails by the two accused and used in their operations, the police said. They are being held pending a further investigation into their operations.

RICE CROP DAMAGED.
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—With more than 70 per cent of the rice crop in the shock and swept by a driving rain, completely inundating it, it is doubtful if the crop can be harvested, says John G. Beekler, a large grower.

CLEAR YOUR COMPLEXION

To Those Unsightly Skin Blemishes.

Use the Guaranteed BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment

Some people dislike to use face powder, creams or rouge, but they cannot suffer the embarrassment of a sallow, blotchy, pimply skin. They therefore depend on powders and rouge to cover up or hide their embarrassing facial blemishes, little realizing that the longer their use is continued, the more aggravated the trouble becomes.

Why don't you clear your complexion, remove those unsightly skin blemishes which so distress you, it's easy—no more trouble than applying cold cream or rouge. You cleanse the skin with Black and White Soap just before retiring and then apply Black and White Ointment. In the morning you wash off the Ointment. No trouble, and the results are so satisfactory.

Go to your nearest drug store or toilet counter today and get a package of Black and White Ointment and a bar of Black and White Soap. You can buy both for 50c.

Parlors would charge a hundred times more for the same results. If you cannot find the Ointment and Soap, accept no substitute but send 50c to the manufacturers for the complete treatment.

A sample, literature and a Black and White Birthday and Dream Book free if you will clip and mail this advertisement to Black and White, Box 1507, Memphis, Tenn.

Dirt in your Engine Oil—Get rid of it!

A LARGE quantity of dust-laden air is "inhaled" by the daily operation of an automobile engine. With this road dust, carbon and fine particles of metal get into the lubricating oil and circulate through your engine, lowering the efficiency of its operation. Add to this dirt the gasoline that escapes past the pistons and dilutes the oil—

Here you have a combination that wears and tears and grinds away, every day adding a little more dirt and forcing a little more unnecessary wear on bearing surfaces. Result: slow response—less power—poor performance—shorter engine life.

Our new Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service is the enemy of dirt in the crankcase—it means "clean oil in a clean engine." The Calor Flushing Oil we use is the new, scientific, thorough flushing agent that does not contaminate the fresh Zerolene refilled into your cleaned crankcase. This modern, convenient service, given quickly and at a nominal cost, returns your engine to you clean and fresh, ready to give that satisfactory performance you expect. Today: Bring in your car for Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service.

THE LEAGUE'S FIRST MEETING

The first meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations was convened yesterday in Geneva, Switzerland, with forty-one nations represented. Former Foreign Minister Paul Hymans of Belgium was elected president, a position which it was commonly agreed should be filled by President Wilson, had the treaty of Versailles been ratified by the United States Senate.

This first meeting of the Assembly will be important in indicating whether or not the hope that the League of Nations will endure and function as was intended by its organizers is justified. Unfortunately the covenant as drawn and insisted upon by President Wilson was unacceptable to this country, it containing too many serious exactions upon the freedom of action of the American government and inviting too many dangers of future embroilment in the quarrels of Europe. At least, this is the view of those who opposed ratification without amendment, and the President declined to accept any amendment or reservations.

But this situation does not constitute a barrier against the devout wish that the League of Nations, or an association of nations under some other name, will exist for the promotion of more complete understanding among governments and peoples for the promotion of peace and the prevention of avoidable wars.

Whatever may be the sentiment regarding American participation in the present League, there is a sentiment deep in the heart of mankind that an improvement over the old order ought to be found. Let the league have a chance to show what is possible for it to do.

TRADE WITH THE "COLONIES"

The extra continental territories of the United States are breaking all records in trade during the year of 1920. This term includes the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska and Porto Rico. Both the imports and exports in the trade between these territories and the continental United States show large increases, according to a statement compiled by the National City Bank of New York.

In the eight months ended with August 31, 1920, the total value of the trade with the non-contiguous territories was $606,000,000, against $533,000,000 in the full calendar year of 1919, and $236,000,000 in the full calendar year immediately preceding the war, 1913. In the single month of August, 1920, the latest for which we have figures, the total was $110,000,000 against $50,000,000 in August of the preceding year, and while it is scarcely probable that this very high monthly record will continue during the remaining four months of the year, it is quite apparent that the trade with territories in question will in the full calendar year 1920 exceed $800,000,000 against $533,000,000 in the full calendar year 1919.

Sugar, coconut oil and the copra from which it is produced, fruits, coffee, fish, hemp, tobacco, copper, and furs are the principal articles forming the $390,000,000 worth of imports from the non-contiguous territories, and manufactures and foodstuffs the chief exports thereto.

From the Philippines, we have drawn in the eight months of 1920 for which figures are available $75,000,000 worth of merchandise, including $14,000,000 worth of Manila hemp nearly $20,000,000 worth of coconut oil, $7,000,000 worth of cigars and cigarettes, and $28,000,000 worth of sugar against $8,000,000 worth of sugar imported in the corresponding months of 1919.

From the Hawaiian Islands the principal imports in the eight months of 1920 are $1,111,000 worth of sugar against $64,000,000 worth in the same months of the preceding year, and over $10,000,000 worth of canned pineapples against $5,000,000 worth in the same months of the preceding year.

From Porto Rico the chief imports are sugar $113,000,000 against $43,000,000 in the same months of last year, 2½ million dollars worth of fruits and nuts against 1¼ million dollars in the same months of last year, and $20,000,000 worth of tobacco and cigars, against less than $8,000,000 worth in the same months of last year.

From Alaska the chief imports are canned salmon 9½ million dollars worth against $13 million dollars worth in the corresponding months of 1919, copper 9½ million dollars worth against $13 million dollars worth in the same months of last year, and furs $3,000,000 worth against 1¼ million dollars in the corresponding months of last year.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN COSTS

A final estimate of the funds raised and spent in the presidential campaign by the National Republican committee in behalf of the Harding and Coolidge ticket places the campaign cost at about $2,250,000. In his pre-election speeches Governor Cox charged that sums ranging from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 had been raised to defeat him. In the face of an opportunity that continued throughout the campaign Governor Cox failed to offer any proof of his lurid assertions. Now it appears that the total spent was only one-fifth of the minimum amount mentioned by Governor Cox and one-tenth of the maximum amount.

The campaign expenditure in behalf of the candidates for the Presidency provide, however, a suggestion for study of a more serious question than the truth or untruth of charges by rival candidates. Campaign orators do not feel always bound to the strictest statement of facts; like that considerable number of oblique thinkers who do not seem to hold it to be a lie to deny what appears in the newspapers, they assume a latitude which, in their own reckoning, absolves them from the obligation to support what they charge with incontestable proof. This was the mental attitude of Governor Cox.

In the last presidential election, with woman suffrage being nation wide for the first time, about 26,000,000 ballots were cast for the several presidential candidates. If the Republican managers spent $2,250,000 that was about thirteen cents per voter and less than ten cents per person eligible to vote.

Since in a republic where popular knowledge is of as high a standard as in the United States, national campaigns must essentially be an educational effort, is three and one-quarter million dollars an unreasonable amount to spend in behalf of a candidate of any great party? In the last campaign we know that all the money went to pay for traveling expenses for speakers, rent of halls, the printing and distribution of literature containing exposures of the record of partisan performance in the administration of government and the exposition of issues and arguments in favor of the proposed policies for the future, clerical help, rent of offices, postage and envelopes, and other items of cost unavoidable in such an undertaking.

A careful and unprejudiced analysis will show that a surprising amount of truth was revealed in the campaign efforts. A lively style may have marked the telling of the truth and there may have been some unfairness in the omissions of which each side was guilty; but what one side omitted the other side told, so there was no serious loss in that respect.

To the question, Does the country benefit by such a campaign? the unprejudiced answer must be "yes." In no other way is it possible, in the present era, to obtain a nationwide discussion and examination of the important questions of national policy and the problems and record of government. On the League of Nations issue, as a striking example, it was highly important that the views of the several groups of protagonists should be expounded as an incentive to serious study of the issue by all the people. The people were asked to vote on the issue, "in a great and solemn referendum"; indeed, they were faced with the inescapable duty of voting on it, and they could only be assured of voting right after they had heard the arguments of the pro-Leaguers, the mild reservationists and the irreconcilables.

So with even more vital issues—the questions of protection for American industry and workers, of a merchant marine, of development of national resources, of parity responsibility in government.

There will be some to argue—undoubtedly Mr. Bryan would be among them—that it would be well for one great party to have as large a campaign fund at its disposal as the other, but this matter will always be mainly determined by the vitality of the cause or causes which each party sponsors. The chief point is not how much is spent—in every national campaign the amount must be large—but whether it is spent for legitimate and lawful purposes.

The second provision Canadian crop estimate issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, put the total yield of wheat for 1920 at $2,136,000 bushels, compared with 193,260,000 for 1919—an increase of 100,000,000. There is also an estimated increase of 150,000,000 bushels of oats, 9,000,000 bushels of barley and 2,000,000 bushels of rye.

At this year's rate of production Canada is growing wheat at the rate of 29 bushels per capita of her population. The production in the United States this year is less than 8 bushels per capita. Domestic consumption for all purposes is about 6 bushels per capita, leaving 2 bushels for export. At the same rate of consumption, Canada will have 23 bushels per capita for export, or 230,000,000 bushels, about the same amount as the United States. Thus Canada is no mean competitor of the American wheat grower in foreign markets.

NOTES and COMMENT

State Senator Harris declares that another enforcement bill will be introduced in the next Legislature. There has been a vote on such a measure that was by no means decisive. Besides, such matters as it affects are fully attended to by Federal statute. When no object is to be gained mere persistence is not a foregone virtue.

The deputations say that Democratic senators are trying to induce the President to renege the Versailles treaty and covenant to Congress with the idea of unseating the Republicans. It may not be a lofty idea, but there is not much satisfaction for the returning hosts, and if they can find enjoyment in it, there is no reason to be said in protest.

Mr. Bryan denies that he has advocated the reorganization of the Democratic party, but reiterates the opinion that President Wilson should resign and that the vice-president should appoint President-elect Harding Secretary of State and then himself resign, thus inaugurating the new regime ahead of time. His contention may be reasonable, but it does not take into account the standing powers of office holders.

Not to be outdone by Martinez, San Mateo enters the list in competition for the naval base. Exactly the same cannot be said of this entrant that was said of the Contra Costa town. It is not as immediately on the water, nor water may be reached in a short journey.

D'Annunzio is again in revolt, this time against the Italy-Yugoslav pact. They are very slow in arranging matters to the satisfaction of D'Annunzio. It promises to be some time before he gets back to writing poetry.

A statement is published that a set is to be made against paying such enormous salaries to movie stars. First it should be settled whether such enormous salaries are paid them as reported. There has always been a phony appearance to these stories. If they are true, those who have to stand the impost would be justified in securing their own relief.

A Boston shoemaker says that religion can save American industry. It was not known that American industry was in such an extremity as that, but anyhow it is an unnatural thing for a shoemaker to think he can be helped by the saving of souls.

The Washington Post puts in a reminder that the Democratic party has had a way in the past of showing itself to be a mighty lively corpse. That may be true, but in recent years it had not received as terrible a blow as was delivered on the night of the recent year.

The Marysville Appeal dips into natural history. Dr. Hornaday of the New York Zoo is rejoicing over the addition to his collection of a brown-faced zebra and some wild asses from Baku. A brown-faced zebra may be a rarity, but why go abroad for wild asses?

The Redding Searchlight gets around with a comment on the election. "In the light of the facts and figures showing the Debs vote, I am sure that we don't think it would have been better for some of the Democratic candidates to have been in jail, too."

Harding's majority in Fresno was 1854 and the Republican had been published under republican auspices scarcely two weeks. There is a probability that the majority would have been less had not the transfer been consummated at the time that it was.

It would be difficult in the District of Columbia, or even in Rhode Island, for Democrats to follow Senator Pat Harrison's advice to "bury all their differences," but there might be room in Texas.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The city community newcomers' night, when the established residents gather to receive and make the acquaintance of the new arrivals is a most hospitable conception. Primitive people were suspicious of strangers, and therefore defiant and hostile to their alien neighbors. There is a lingering trace of that old primitive attitude in the schoolyard custom of making the new lad prove his fitness in a fist fight. Here and there among grown-ups we find an occasional vestige of the same spirit, but expressed differently through a refined snobbishness.

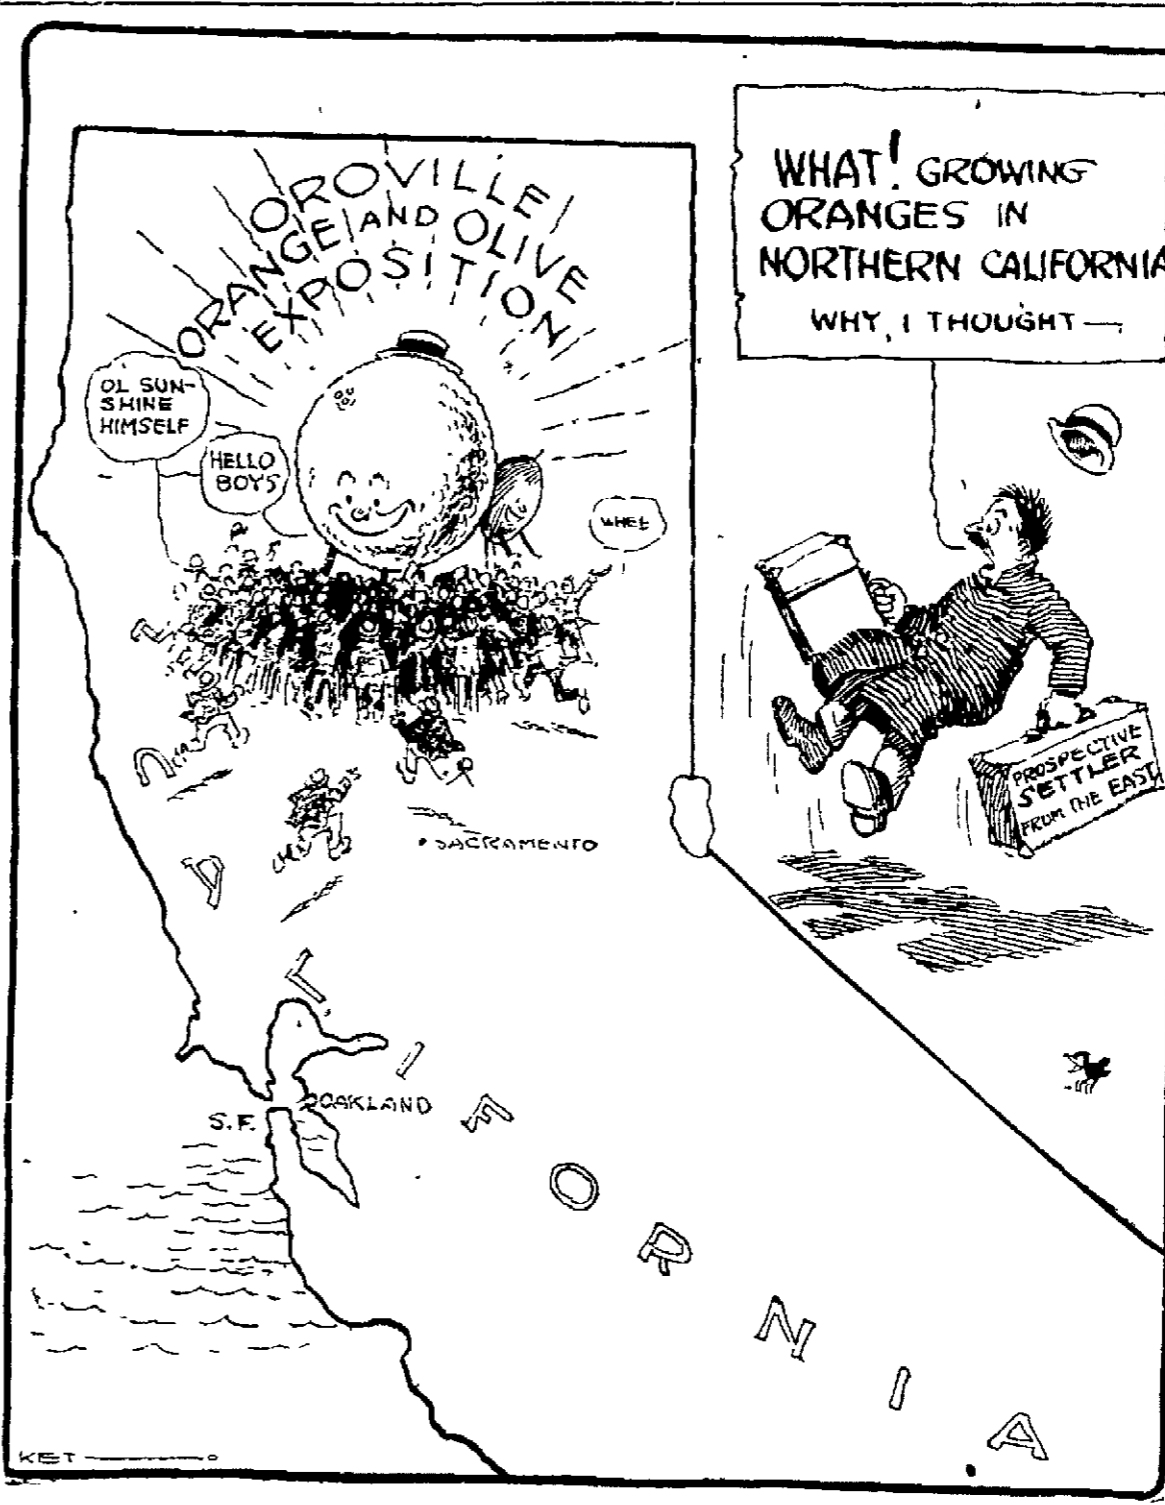

Some time ago Governor Coolidge boasted that he had bought a suit of clothes for a year, nor a pair of shoes for two years. But the election results may induce him to be a little more extravagant and give profiteers a chance—Sacramento Bee.

The three acres of sugar beets on the Threlkeld ranch are being dug and shipped to the Alameda Sugar Co. at Alameda. They are yielding two tons per acre of beets, testing from 18 to 21 per cent sugar. This yield is good considering that they were planted two months late—Fairfield Enterprise.

Five vessels of the U. S. Shipping Board fleet are anchored off the western section of Berkeley near Southpoint Bay. The vessels will remain at anchor there until such time as they are recalled to service—Susan Courier.

THE PAPER INDUSTRY

United States Produces More Than Half of World's Supply and Consumes 90 Per Cent of Its Output—Large Increase in Paper Board Production—Alaskan Forests May Solve Newsprint Shortage.

By DR. FRANK M. SURFACE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10, 1920.

According to statistics compiled by the War Industries board, the total world's estimated capacity production of paper in 1919 was slightly over 15,000,000 tons, of which over 8,000,000 tons was in the United States. Germany's capacity was placed at 1,381,000 tons and Canada at 1,203,000 tons. No other country has the capacity to produce as much as 500,000 tons per year. We are, therefore, the dominant paper makers of the world. Figures on imports and exports indicate that the United States consumes about 90 per cent of its total production, and in addition imports considerable quantities of certain kinds for domestic use.

Our actual production of paper of all kinds during the present year is averaging a little over $60,000,000 tons per month, or at the rate of over 7,000,000 tons per year.

The greatest increase has occurred in the output of paper board, where the estimated 1920 production is more than 40 per cent greater than that of 1917. This is accounted for chiefly by the increased substitution of paper for wood and tin in the manufacture of containers for all kinds of ordinary commodities.

The expansion in the output of news print and book paper reflects the great increase in newspaper and magazine circulation and of books and large editions. According to the 1911 census of manufactures, there were in the United States 27,754 periodicals, with a circulation per issue of 265,544,397 copies. In addition, 175,666,698 copies of books and pamphlets were issued. No doubt the census for 1919 will show a substantial increase in the output of the printing and publishing industry.

Of the several kinds of paper listed, paper board is made chiefly from straw, chips, leather scraps and similar more or less waste material. The new grades of waxes, tapers and bond paper are made largely from rags. The two very important classes of news print and book paper are made principally from wood pulp.

Within the last 20 years our consumption of news print paper has increased more than 240 per cent. Consumption in 1919 amounted to 569,000 tons in 1913 to 1,760,000 tons, and for 1920 it will run close to 2,000,000 tons, which represents about $3 pounds per capita. The effect of this enormous increase in consumption has been to change the United States from an exporting, or at least self-supporting, country in pulp wood, pulp and news print, to a more importing country. As late as 1909 we produced sufficient supplies for our own use. But at the present time we are dependent upon foreign countries for nearly two-thirds of our news print and its raw material. At the present time we are importing annually about 600,000 tons of news print paper, 470,000 to 500,000 tons of wood pulp and about 1,400,000 cords of pulp wood.

The wood pulp industry of the country is largely restricted to the New England and the lake states. This is due partly to the fact that the virgin forests of these regions contained the species of timber best adapted to paper making. The chief kinds of timber used in wood pulp manufacture are spruce, which in 1917 supplied 45 per cent of the total pulp manufactured and hemlock balsam and poplar. The four species represent about 85 per cent of the total wood used for pulp. The total investment required in making, apparently the only salvation is to develop the industry in the far west and in Alaska. The Forest Service has pointed out that the Tongass National Forest in southeastern Alaska contains about 70,000,000,000 board feet of timber, largely western hemlock and Sitka spruce, which are suitable for pulp making. This timber is situated in a comparatively narrow belt along the 12,000 miles of coast line. Water power is available, as is also deep water transportation.

This timber is for sale under favorable terms and in quantities large enough to justify the installation of a mill. The Forest Service estimates that it will be cut under methods that will prevent wastefulness and insure permanence of production. It is estimated that the perpetual supply from this region is large enough to meet one-half the present news print requirements of the United States. (Copyright, 1920.)

VIRGINIA CLARK GOES ON TRIAL AS MURDERESS

Woman Who Knew Slain Man and One Against Death Penalty Are Excused

Virginia P. Clark went to trial before Superior Judge James G. Quinn today, charged with the murder of her husband, Chester J. Clark, on the early morning of August 15.

In a crowded courtroom, the trial of the woman, who is alleged to have shot her husband to death in cold blood, as he lay by her side in bed opened with the work of selection a jury and the reading of the information, charging murder in the first degree.

KNOW SLAIN MAN.

Springing to her feet and declaring that she had known the deceased, Chester Clark, for years and respected and admired him, Mrs. Louise Slater, 3314 Quigley street, in a trembling voice pleaded with Judge James G. Quinn to excuse her from acting as a jury in the Clark murder trial, just before the noon recess. Mrs. Slater was excused, as was Mrs. Alice M. Sanders, who objected to death penalty for women.

WOULD HANG WOMAN

District Attorney Ezra Decoto and Deputy Shy began the battle for the prosecution, with the avowed purpose of sending Mrs. Clark to the gallows, while Attorney C. C. McGee, Thomas J. Lennon and David Gilman were arrayed with the defense, for the purpose of freeing her on an insanity plea.

Against the indisputable fact that Mrs. Virginia P. Clark killed her husband nothing will be presented. Attorney McGee, Thomas J. Lennon, son of Supreme Justice D. J. Lennon of the state supreme court, and Attorney Gilman have perfected, they claim, a perfect insanity defense.

FIRE FOUR SHOTS

That Mrs. Clark fired a bullet into her husband's heart, another into his brain, and two others into his body in a fit of insanity, that she ran to a window and called to her neighbors that her husband had shot himself, that for three days she persisted in her declaration to the police that she had not shot Clark and that she finally broke down and confessed, all as a result of an unbalanced mental condition is the contention of the defense.

The trial opened at 10 o'clock this morning and the jury box was filled with tentative jurors, whose examination and elimination by the prosecution and defense began at once. The case proceeded rapidly and it is thought that the jury will have been secured by tomorrow morning.

Above those in the jury box were Mrs. Regina Mellon, Alice M. Sanders, David W. Martin, Louise Slater, William H. Emory, A. E. Oleson, Augustine Burnell, C. O. Evans, Grace Johnson, J. H. Wright, and Alice E. Webster.

De Charon Dispute Hinges on Deeds

On the disputed point where the Countess Etta de Charon (Mrs. T. A. Wright), delivered deeds for $105,000 worth of apartment house property and sites to her husband, Count Frederic de Charon, will depend the decision of Superior Judge Joseph Koford as to the ownership of the wealth, it was indicated today.

The property in dispute are the Colonial and La France apartments and a business lot on Franklin street.

How Berkeley Has Grown Northward

Black sections show territory annexed by Berkeley at recent election

6000 Added to Berkeley by Annexation of Districts

BERKELEY, Nov. 15.—As Christmas present Berkeley will receive approximately 6000 more residents this year while the unincorporated districts of Thousand Oaks, Cragmont and No Man's Land will have the name of the college city bestowed upon them.

In some quarters it is believed that the annexation of the surrounding territory is the first move for a city and county of Berkeley which may be made possible under the proceedings started for a consolidated city and county of Alameda.

Legal steps to follow Saturday's annexation election, it is estimated, will take a month before the outlying regions are united to the city.

According to City Attorney Frank V. Cornish, mutual felicitations between Berkeley and her new "baby" can be exchanged under the municipal Christmas tree. The new territory will add $3,000,000 in assessed valuation to the city of Berkeley, paying taxes, it is estimated, of $20,500 the first year. No taxes will be paid the present fiscal year by the new portions of the city.

"Berkeley is most happy to have such a fine Christmas gift," says Mayor Bartlett. "The new districts can rest assured that every promise made to them before Saturday's election will be lived up to."

Chaplin to Return Before Christmas

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Charlie Chaplin will be back in California before Christmas. This was disclosed in a telegram just received from him by his protegee, "Jackie" Coogan, 6-year-old film actor Jackie was injured recently in an automobile accident.

"There are no chimneys in hospitals for Santa Claus to come down and I hope you will be out when I return so we can spend Christmas together," said the comedian in his message.

Mrs. Tynan's Funeral Services Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Tynan, wife of Joseph J. Tynan, manager of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from St. Vincent de Paul's church, Green and Steiner streets. Mrs. Tynan died yesterday at St. Mary's Hospital following an illness of several months. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters and a son, Miss Margaret E. Tynan, Miss Josephine M. Tynan and Joseph J. Tynan Jr.

Since coming to San Francisco from Philadelphia 14 years ago, Mrs. Tynan has been a leader in society and philanthropic circles. She took active part in war relief and was sponsor for two of the submarine built by her husband. She was a member of the Woman's Athletic Club and Sorosis Club.

"Earthbound" Deals in Things That Can't Be Spoken of--

One is at a Loss as to Just How to Describe Basil King's Most Extraordinary Play, Coming to the Kinema next week.

Right now when there is so wide discussion in every paper and magazine you open over the continuation of personality after death, one appreciates a new angle as presented by Basil King in what is called the greatest film ever produced—"Earthbound"—to be presented at the Kinema next week.

Here is a play, that one dares not recommend, for our weak words cannot cope with a theme that has held centuries of generations in awe—what becomes of us after our span here on earth and what have our deeds earned for us.

As one critic says while the "Miracle Man" dealt with this life, "Earthbound" begins where that former play left off.

The Kinema this week is showing Charlie Ray, back at his snappy but bashful parts, as "The Old Fashioned Boy," while the Franklin presents Bryan Washburn in a riot of fun, "A Full House"—Advertisement.

WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE FROM LODI DENTIST

Dr. E. Guy Williams' Spouse Says He Swore at Her Before Hotel Guests

Dr. E. Guy Williams, dentist of Lodi whose wife Mrs. Ethel Williams now lives with her father, H. W. Hudson, in Berkeley, testified before Judge T. W. Harris today that her husband created a scene in the dining room of the hotel at Lake Tahoe and disgraced her before the other guests. She said he swore at her and told her in a loud voice to shut up and mind her own business. She was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Mrs. Williams said her husband earns $300 a month. He denied this, saying he earns only $25 a month. An agreement was reached out of court between the parties whereby Dr. Williams is to pay $100 a month for the support of the minor children.

Mrs. Williams testified that liquor was responsible for her domestic woes. She said her husband drank virtually every evening at the club in Lodi and that he was drunk nearly every day. She said his conduct forced her to leave him and go to live with her parents in Berkeley.

Judge J. J. Tribucco held court at the bedside of one of the witnesses in the case of Otto C. Kuerzel who sued Mrs. Bonnie Kuerzel for divorce. The illness of one of the women whose testimony supported that of Mrs. Kuerzel prompted the court to go to her home in East Oakland for the evidence. Kuerzel charged desertion, but Mrs. Kuerzel was given the decree on a cross-complaint charging cruelty which the husband did not contest.

TOWN BUYS ITS CITY HALL WHEN RENT IS RAISED

Albany Trustees Faced With Loss of Official Home Make Counter Move

ALBANY, Nov. 15.—Threatened with a raise of rent, the town trustees solved the situation last night by purchasing the building now occupied by municipal offices.

The building, consisting of two stories, one occupied by the city officials, and the other housing a branch of the county library, was purchased for a consideration of $5000 from an investment company of San Francisco. The city had been paying a rental of $40 per month.

The building occupies a frontage of 37 1/2 feet on Main street west of San Pablo avenue with a depth of 100 feet.

Letters of Tottie Joe
DEAR TESSIE:
From your masterful description of the home how you assembled the other day, all I can say is I wish you luck with it. I am by any means expecting it. If it pans out all right, I ought to be several shades livelier than TOTT, so when the time comes to taste it, in the name of those who may be waiting to cash in on your life insurance you'd better be sure to stop, look and listen after every taste. I'm too young and too fond of you to be a widower, and the baby hasn't had enough experience to be an orphan on his mother's side.
When I think of you, Tessie, who used to run a mile in the wrong direction when anybody offered you a drink of jazz-water, staying up all night to nurse a sick home brew, why I wonder what a man from Mars would think of this population if he happened to get off his planet and landed in the Pacific and found himself stranded on the Great Volstead Desert, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Mexico to Canada.
He'd find respectable birds who had always pointed the finger of scorn whenever the three fingers of Scotch-Irish forgetfulness were extended to them now taking out their burglar insurance all for the sake of a couple of cases of poison buried under the coal. He'd find virtuous wives and mothers scheming with model husbands and fathers to manufacture deadly explosives in defiance of the law. That's life, Tessie. The only man who gets a real thrill from smoking a 25-cent cigar is the $20 a week pink who knows he oughtn't to buy one and buys one, anyway, so now that it's all wrong and awfully expensive to obtain a little of the medicine that Omar Khayyam lived to such a ripe old age by taking before and after every meal, why the very poorest of us would cheerfully mortgage our last silk shirt to get some.
Which reminds me, I hope you haven't so much as breathed to anybody that I've got a little stock laid away. If anybody so really goes so far as to come out and ask you point blank, you can easily look surprised and shocked, or maybe even go so far as to shake your head, without actually lying. Use the old line, Tessie.
Love to you and the little posterity.
JOE.

BIG FLEETS TO PLAY AT WAR OFF FARRALONES
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—From out of the west, their long gray forms appearing on the horizon of the Pacific at daybreak on November 20, will come an imaginary enemy composed of monster battleships, ready to attack and reduce San Francisco forts.
At the same time Admiral Rodman's Pacific fleet, ready to defend the city, will steam out of Bolinas bay. Rodman's fleet of battleships, destroyers and subchasers, will take up a position of defense ten miles off the heads and will attempt to repel the attack.
The battle will last three days, and will be one of the first demonstrations of how a battleship fleet would operate if an attack were made on San Francisco harbor.
The Pacific fleet is being assembled in San Francisco bay. The battleships and destroyers have already received their orders, and many of them will spend Thanksgiving day here.
The attacking armada will steam up from its present base at San Diego.

You need not be a user of Life O'Wheat in order to compete for the prizes, but those familiar with the product will naturally be better fitted to write about it. All grocers have fresh stocks of Life O'Wheat.
Conditions of the Contest
Professional writers are barred. Each slogan must be limited to six words. Life O'Wheat will count as one word. Spelling, punctuation and grammar are not important. Ideas are what will count. Submit as many suggestions—or as few—as you wish, but be sure to put your name and address on each manuscript. Write all matter plainly, using only one side of the paper. If two or more persons submit identically the same winning ideas, each will receive the full amount of the respective prize. Awards will be made as soon as possible after the contest closes, and winning slogan published in this paper January 18 to February 18. Keep this advertisement. It contains all necessary information. Please do not write for further details.

NEWSPAPER TELLS HOW BOY WAS SAVED FROM LUNG TROUBLE

Read what the Altoona Times-Tribune says about the case of Paul McCartney. Reporter interviewed his parents and saw the boy.

The story shown below is a news article, not advertising.

HEALTH COMES TO LAD THROUGH ADVERTISING

Despairing Parents, As the Last Resort, Choose Remedy Heard of Through This Newspaper—Boy is Now Well and Robust

It would hardly come to you that a miracle could be worked through advertising—one that saved to a dying child the life of his only son. Strange as it may seem, that is just exactly what has happened in a specific instance right here in Altoona. We have heard volumes about the value of advertising, but that the results achieved by it should save lives, almost pass our belief. However here are the facts in the case.

Paul McCartney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen McCartney, residing at 222 Walnut avenue, this city, and who on October 10 last, celebrated the 14th anniversary of his birthday, took sick July 15th, his illness rapidly assuming such a critical aspect that his life was despaired of. The parents in their frantic efforts to save his life, called in different medical practitioners and at different times had him admitted to both city hospitals.

DIAGNOSED TUBERCULOSIS
The malady was diagnosed by the physicians as tuberculosis and it was suggested that the parents keep the boy out of doors, day and night and feed him entirely on a milk and egg diet. In compliance, the parents had an army cot placed on the back porch and the boy was taken there, the sufferer reduced to a mere skeleton, day and night, his life ebbing.

This news article from the Altoona Times-Tribune is reproduced by the Milwaukee Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

* Milk Emulsion is offered, on a liberal trial plan, to anyone suffering from stomach trouble, constipation, lack of flesh or appetite, stubborn coughs or the weakening effects of wasting diseases. Take 6 bottles home and use it as directed. If not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.

JAPANESE DROP LEGAL FIGHT ON NEW LAND LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Members of the Japanese Association of America, meeting at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce at 444 Bush street, resolved not to undertake a legal attack of the California anti-alien land law, just adopted. Instead, a campaign of education along the line of Americanization was authorized, the object being to show Americans that the Japanese in this country were in earnest and to further improve the condition of the Japanese. The resolution said:

"We presume the majority of Japanese will stay in this country, finding necessary means of livelihood. It had previously been announced by one Japanese publication that it, individually, would undertake to attack the land law.

BECAME NERVOUS AND LOST WEIGHT

Iowa Man Tells How He Regained Health and Strength After Months of Discouragement.

If you are nervous and melancholy and are losing strength and energy you will find the story of Mr. Anton Patrick, No. 534 West 24th street, Des Moines, Iowa, encouraging and interesting.

"I am a coal miner," explains Mr. Patrick, "and I believe that the close confinement in the mines was the cause of my condition. I was badly run down in health and my strength was leaving me very fast. I could just do my work and that was all. I lost weight and became nervous that I could not get all the sleep I needed and felt as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. My health was so low that I did not have any appetite. I became discouraged. My appetite was good sometimes and at other times I didn't care to eat anything. I was troubled with shortness of breath and had nervous twinges. A friend told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I began to take them. I felt a little better after the first box so I kept on. I have regained my strength and have taken on more weight. My color has improved and my appetite is as good as ever. My nerves are stronger too and I have more ambition for my work. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have helped me greatly and I can honestly recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a strengthening medicine. Surely and effectively they build up the system, invigorate the appetite, tone up the digestion, give brightness to the eye, color the cheeks and lips and quickness to the step.

Any druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can order direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 60 cents a box. Write for the new booklet, "The Nervous System."—Advertisement.

Famous Old Recipe For Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick relief.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it is equally as good for results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, instead of sugar, use honey, or syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every part of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and usually but not invariably, it cures the throat and lungs and cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute relief. Your money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne Ind.

SAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for cod-liver-oil—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a reliable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like cod-liver-oil—yet are no dangerous after effects.

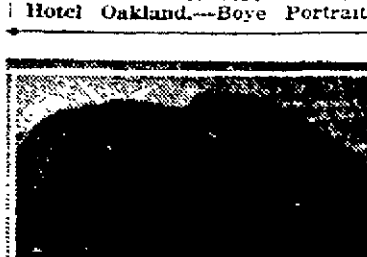

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Millions of bowels are annually at 15c and 30c. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.—Advertisement.

TO RELIEVE CATARRH DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrh of Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little strainer. Take one or two spoonfuls four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous membrane into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrh of Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

Women's Clubs Plan Fight for Property Rights

By EDNA B. KINARD

A concerted attack will be made on the January session of the legislature by the organized women of the state on behalf of a new bill which will amend materially the community property rights of the wives in California. Women's League, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, North and South, and other important groups will lead the campaign.

Mrs. Albert E. Carter of Oakland, chairman of the community property campaign committee which two years ago won a victory for the state of California, will be the chief speaker at a referendum on the subject of community property rights. The bill, which was introduced by the legislature last year, would give the wife the right to sue for her share of the community property in the event of a divorce.

The new bill which will be introduced during the January session of the legislature will amend the community property law which was sponsored in the majority report of the legislative committee of the State Bar Association and of which Supreme Justice Boland was a member before the late convention of that organization in October.

When the Legislature Council next year comes to Sacramento to take the measures which it is pledged to sponsor, an executive secretary will be appointed to handle the campaign to back such a project with subscriptions will shortly be issued to the women's clubs.

Alameda County Federation of Women's Clubs will become fact on Thursday when the clubwomen will assemble in Elwell clubhouse to perfect the organization which was begun in September. Reports of the committee on constitution and bylaws and on nominations will be presented. Adoption of the document of the election of officers are named the important features of the business session. The meeting will be held from 10 to 11 a. m. All clubwomen are invited to join the conference.

Hostess at Tea Tells Of Betrothal

The tea which Miss Elizabeth Seymour gave at her home in Mill Valley Saturday in honor of Miss Eunice Stock of Piedmont, fiancee of Lawrence Daniel Sherman of San Francisco, and Miss Doris Peoples, who is engaged to Curtis Hall Montgomery, of Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Seymour of Mill Valley. The announcement was made when the baskets which contained the shower gifts were brought in and in the bottom of each were concealed the betrothal card.

SEVERAL HUNDRED TO ATTEND WEDDING
Tonight some 600 or more guests are to assemble at the First Presbyterian church in this city at 8:30 o'clock for the marriage of the younger girls, Miss Laura Gladys Robinson, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edward Constant Robinson, and Dr. Fletcher Brandon Taylor. Rev. Frank M. Silsby, pastor of that church, will officiate. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Judge Robinson. Immediately after the ceremony a reception will be held in the church parlors upstairs, which are to be arranged in quantities of great shaggy golden chrysanthemums. With in the edifice, orchid, pink and white chrysanthemums are to be used about the chancel with potted palms and woodruffs.

The gowns of the bride and attendants will be in the deeper tones of navy blue, green, and silver lace. Their frocks will be made in a quaint fashion of ruffled taffeta, the skirts bouffant and all will carry old-fashioned bonnets with lace frills. The bridesmaids are the Misses Doris Alexander, Naomi Smith, Muriel and Marion Robinson, cousins of the bride-elect.

Miss Ethel Clark, maid of honor, will be in navy blue, and will carry a bouquet of white roses. The little flower girls, Kathryn Norton and June Blasing, will carry dainty frocks of white with little Elizabeth Gardner will be flower maiden.

Miss Robinson's gown is an exquisite design of ivory satin veiled in old rose point lace, a family heirloom. Her bridal veil will be caught with orange blossoms and form a train three yards in length. It is made with a wide panel of French lace.

Stonhill Keats of Detroit, Michigan, will be best man, and will carry a bouquet of white roses. The groom, Lawrence Daniel Sherman, will be in a tuxedo and will carry a bouquet of white roses. The bride, Miss Laura Gladys Robinson, will be in a gown of ivory satin veiled in old rose point lace, a family heirloom. Her bridal veil will be caught with orange blossoms and form a train three yards in length. It is made with a wide panel of French lace.

Josephine Swan White has sent out cards of invitation of a musical and musical accompaniments assisted by Claire Harsanyi, pianist; Miss Fern Corrado, soprano; Carl Edwin Anderson, tenor. The program will be given in the St. Francis Hotel ballroom Tuesday evening, November 30.

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Leonard Ross, of Oakland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Adams, former Martinez residents, to Leonard Ross, Oakland, has been made. The wedding of the couple November 24 has been set as the date of the wedding. Miss Adams is a graduate of Alameda high school of Martinez and removed to Oakland with her parents about a year ago.

The engagement of Ross McDonald of Richmond to Miss Elsie M. Brown of Oakland was announced yesterday. The marriage is expected to take place very soon, although the date has not been set. Miss McDonald is a graduate of Alameda high school of Martinez and removed to Oakland with her parents about a year ago.

When Miss Hope Somerset, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Somerset of Berkeley, is married December 9 at one of the large churches of the winter there will be a quartet of honor consisting of Misses Laura Lindsay Miller and Miss Dorothy Cawston, two of the season's debutantes, and Miss Virginia Smith and Miss Juanita Girardelli will share the honors.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Sarchfield Waldron of Eighth avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Waldron, and Paul E. White of San Francisco, formerly of Montana. Informally to her friends the bride-elect conveyed the news at a recent luncheon at her home. Her nearest friends recently. The wedding will take place in the spring.

OAKLAND HARBOR SEEKS U. S. GOVERNMENT RECOGNITION

WATERFRONT NEEDS
OUTLINED IN PLEAS
TO COLONEL DEAKYNE

Oakland's plea for a better harbor and her suggestions as to how it can be achieved were presented yesterday afternoon in the city council chambers by city officials and heads of commercial organizations to the representative of the United States government, Colonel Herbert Deakne of the engineers.

The hearing was held as the result of an order by Congress for a new survey of Oakland harbor. The hearing project was adopted in 1907, and the industrial growth of the Eastbay cities during the past thirteen years has necessitated a new and enlarged project calling for greater depths and wider channels. A new project can be adopted a survey is made and a report submitted to the board of river and harbor engineers, with headquarters in Washington, which passes upon the recommendations of the government district engineer who conducts hearings as to the necessity of new projects. The recommendations of the Washington board are later submitted to Congress through the secretary of war.

WILL FORWARD PLEAS
Colonel Deakne took testimony and will forward the plans to Washington, together with whatever comments he may make. He made no formal statement, but heard all who desired to speak.

A program of four items was formally presented by the city of Oakland through Commissioner Soderberg. A fifth improvement was suggested by the harbor committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The plea of the city of Oakland is really for recognition, as the western waterfront has never been formally recognized as the export for the Eastbay, but has had the status of any other corner of the bay outside San Francisco.

The city's requests, together with the recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce, are being formally recognized as the export for the Eastbay harbor policy in the near future. In addition, yesterday's hearing was but two days before the formal presentation of the Alameda naval base site to the United States government in the same Council chambers.

SUGGESTIONS MADE
The suggestions of the City of Oakland as to her harbor, as outlined in Commissioner Soderberg's report, made up after consultation with engineers and harbor experts, follow:

1. Deepening and widening the inner harbor channel below the Webster street bridge.

2. Dredging a channel across the shoal southwest of Goat Island.

3. Deepening and widening channels through Brooklyn basin.

4. Dredging of the channel and reconstruction of bridges over the tidal canal.

The suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce, advanced by Joseph E. Caine and E. C. Sessions, follows along the lines of the city's third item.

The plan of the Oakland Chamber, in brief, is one that calls for a 35-foot channel from the bay to the Webster street bridge, a 20-foot channel from the bridge around Government Island and the Park street bridge. It also calls for a 20-foot basin as well as a 30-foot channel up East Creek and around Alameda through Bay Farm Island. It would provide for a 250-foot fill to connect Government Island with the foot of the city.

TURNING BASINS NEEDED

At present it is admittedly hard for any large vessel to turn in the estuary. By means of the turning basins, ships can be turned as railroad engines operate on turn-tables.

In outlining the plan, Sessions and others pointed out that the present drawbridges are inadequate, in that their foundations will not stand more than an 18-foot depth of channel alongside the abutments. With a deeper channel, the abutments might fail. The Chamber of Commerce thus fell in heartily with a plea for better and wider bridge accommodations. Without such accommodations, it was pointed out, big ships may not get into the estuary no matter how wide the rest of the channel is dredged.

Engineer Macdonald of the Western Milling Company incidentally pointed out that all indications point that the bulk of the grain of Central California for export will pass through Oakland. It was also pointed out that unless there be better accommodations, the grain trade will be lost to the city.

OFFICIAL IS URGED
The official report of the city of Oakland also advocated a turning basin, but for the estuary it most strongly advocated a dredging of the channel to be at least 20 or 25 feet, instead of 30 feet as has been the practice.

When the channel is dredged to 30 feet, it was pointed out, mud and silt gradually fill in and in a few years the channel has only a depth of 23 or 24 feet; whereas if the channel is dredged deeper, there will be a corresponding gain even though mud and silt keeps settling there.

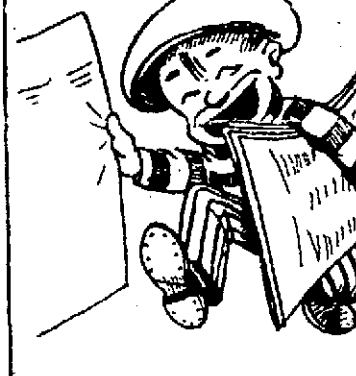

The task of cutting through the shoals south of Goat Island, it was emphasized, means much to the future commerce of the Eastbay. It would open a more direct channel to the waterfront in the first place, and secondarily it would give the city two channels instead of one as at present, and the one at present is held to be a minor one and not entirely satisfactory. Says the city's report:

Vessels entering from the Golden Gate are forced to cross a shoal extending in a southeasterly direction from Goat Island with waters varying from 22 to 24 feet at mean low water, and that the complete success of our plan will require the excavation of a channel across this shoal. In fact, the limiting depth between the wharf of Albers and the shoal of water is a shoal of 20 feet at present is located upon this shoal.

"An effort has been made to so plan the work that a single broad channel across this shoal will be sufficient to serve the entire project, including the inner harbor, and the assistance of your department in the maintenance of this channel at a low water level is most earnestly requested."

FOR STRAIGHT CHANNEL
This, it is asserted, is the prime work which Oakland plan, which is a deep, straight channel to the harbor, nothing thereafter is impossible; it is held. On this point Oakland makes its special emphasis.

The hearing was conducted almost without comment by Colonel Deakne, was attended by representatives of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, civic bodies, as well as the Chamber of Commerce, and representatives from the Southern Pacific, San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, and other industrial plants interested in the harbor. Oakland's comment was directed, with filed with the War Department. Before entering into the work desired, the treatise dilates upon the status of Oakland as a seaport and defines what a seaport should be. In part the preamble is as follows:

32 MORE DAYS FOR

"A successful seaport must be located at a logical gateway to a district endowed with natural resources, inhabited by a producing and consuming population, while equally obvious it is that the finest natural harbor in the world, provided with the most modern improvements and equipment, could never be successful as a world port if located upon the desert shores of Arabia."

ADVANTAGES OF PORT
"Measuring our port in the light of such requirements, we have long been convinced that our city has before it one of the greatest opportunities presented to a Pacific Coast city of today, for, aside from our claims to a share of transcontinental traffic, we claim an additional advantage possessed by no other port on the coast."

"Our city is located at the natural and logical gateway to the largest part of agricultural, orchard, farm, forest and mineral-producing lands on the Pacific Coast."

"The present commercial supremacy of our sister city across the bay, notwithstanding the immense strategic advantages of the continental side, is not at all strange. Nothing was more logical than the construction of piers and wharves at points where the depth of water and better navigation could be reached with the least expense of time and money."

"Extensive dredging operations were necessary before large vessels could reach the eastern shores; the problem was too great for solution by the village of Oakland of those days, and business was permitted to go elsewhere by default."

"Conditions have changed radically in more recent years, however. Population and commerce have increased by leaps and bounds and our city is rapidly assuming the position to which her strategic location entitles her."

HAS EYE TO FUTURE
The article points out that Oakland has done much work in dredging channels and building its waterfront, and in planning for development it has had an eye to the future rather than the present, always remembering that the size of ships tends to become constantly larger. After deprecating the fact that the government saw fit to create Government Island instead of leveling it and giving the harbor a wider estuary at that point, the article touches on the matter of water and better bridges across the estuary and recommends that a rolling lift bridge be substituted for the antiquated ones at present, so that the present center pier structures can be removed and the channel deepened to 30 feet.

The report of the city of Oakland

'CUR' AND 'LIAR'
CHARGED; SCHOOL
LIGHTS IN ROW

Directors Campbell and Pease Pass "Compliments," But No Blood Is Let

With cries of "cur" and "liar" ringing in the air, members of the Board of Education last night, by main strength, prevented a head-on collision between Directors Fred Campbell and J. Loran Pease after adjournment.

It began when Campbell eulogized the work of the bond expenditure committee of the board and said Mrs. Short and others should have a school named after them for their excellent labors. After that it was moved to adopt the bond expenditure committee's report, with recommendations for the purchase of several properties. Director Pease voted "no."

CAMPBELL AROUSED
That aroused Campbell's ire and he accused Pease of obstructionist tactics as soon as the session was over.

Director Pease retorted with cutting language. "You're a cur," charged Campbell. "You're a liar and you know it," replied Pease.

The united efforts of the board restrained the batters. "I should have taken a swing at him anyhow," said Campbell, afterward.

"I refuse to soil my hands with him," said Pease, later.

REPORT ADOPTED.
The report of the bond expenditure committee, finally adopted, included recommendations as follows: The purchase of the H. C. Schwin home adjoining the Fremont high school, for $6500, and the sale of the house at auction.

The purchase of 1.396 acres from the Claremont Country Club for the new Rock Ridge school at the option price of $22,500.

The purchase of small tracts to add to the grounds of Vocational High school, and Alameda, Santa Fe and Melrose Heights schools.

The bond expenditure committee includes Frederick Kahn, Robert M. Fitzgerald, Joseph King, Jack Fitzgerald and George Randolph.

The project of the Chamber of Commerce was not accompanied by cost data and the chamber was given time in which to secure the figures and file them.

The various Eastbay cities were represented by the following officials: Oakland—Commissioner W. H. Edwards and Frederick Soderberg; Berkeley—Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; E. C. Sessions of the harbor development committee, and K. S. Heck, city harbor engineer.

Alameda—Al Latham, councilman; C. C. Adams, president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, and E. C. Soules, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Berkeley—Mayor Louis Bartlett, Charles D. Heywood, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety George P. Schmidt.

SUGAR PRICES
CUT ONE HALF
SINCE JUNE

Following close on the heels of a 50-cent decline in sugar announced on Armistice Day, the wholesale price of sugar again dropped today from $10.50 a hundred to $10 a hundred.

The decline probably will be felt within a week on the retail market. Sugar is now expected to decline from the present price of 10 cents a pound to 12½ cents a pound.

The break in the price of sugar since the latter part of June is one of the most sensational occurrences in the local grocery market. From $23 a hundred the price has broken in four months to much less than half of the maximum.

The decline today brings the price to the same as that quoted for sugar in June, 1919.

Petersen Case Is Up Again Tonight

The sixth hearing in the case of Walter J. Petersen, deposed captain of inspectors, who appears to the Civil Service Board for reinstatement, will be held tonight before the Civil Service Board. Because of charges brought against Major Harry Huber of the board, who is alleged to be incompetent to hear the case of Petersen because he is indebted to Petersen, the latter's trial has now assumed secondary interest. Huber's trial before the city council starts Tuesday night.

RULING HEAD OF PRESBYTERIANISM WILL BE GREETED

Churches of Bay Region Will Be Hosts Tonight to Moderator Palmer

The San Francisco Presbytery, embodying fifty-seven Presbyteries in the bay cities, will meet at the Brooklyn Presbyterian church this evening, in honor of the coming of Rev. Samuel S. Palmer, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and for the past twenty years pastor of the Broadstreet Presbyterian church of Detroit, Mich., is traveling with Dr. Palmer.

Dr. Palmer served as pastor of Brooklyn Presbyterian church from 1892 to 1893, and will be the speaker of the evening. A banquet will be given the party by the Elder's Association.

Tomorrow the party will journey to San Anselmo to visit the theological seminary there. Tomorrow evening Dr. Palmer will speak at the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley and Dr. Vance will speak at Calvary church, San Francisco.

WILL SOLICIT RECRUITS.
H. Schleutner, chief boatswain, attached to the navy recruiting station, Twelfth and Broadway, will speak tonight at the Rialto theater, San Pablo avenue, between Twenty-seventh and Twentieth streets, to urge enlistment on the super-dreadnaught California. A navy enlistment motion picture will be shown.

DECLARES WOMEN,
LIKE KITTENS,
NEED PETTING

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—A woman, stroked the right way, will purr like a cat, but strokes her the wrong way and she becomes a pot-ted tigress, according to Judge Harry A. Lewis, a "divorce cases here. Women, he said, are like kittens."

"You've got to pet 'em and keep 'em happy," he said. "Many a home has been broken up because a man has been too lazy to pet his wife."

"It is just as easy to kill your wife with neglect as with a razor. And there are better ways than one of showing your wife you love her than by sending her a dozen roses."

Lewis announced he was through "breaking up homes." He has established a "reconciliation room" in connection with his court and where there is a chance of bringing an estranged pair together, he sends them into his room to "make up."

COTTON SCALE REMAINS.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 16.—Wages of the 35,000 operatives in the cotton mills will remain at the scale that has been in force for the last six months, according to an agreement reached by representatives of the manufacturers today.

Dr. Barber Does Not
"Put On Airs"

No kowtowing in deference to the "doctor" here. No professional ceremony, though there is no office anywhere in which dentistry is more scientifically performed. Dr. Barber wants no money that he does not earn. He does not look for big profits from individual patients; he is equipped to serve large numbers at low cost—all work guaranteed and painless.
